Truman Asks $35,860,000,000; Favors Substantial Wage Boosts

SAYS U.S. DEBT WON'T JUMP IN BARING BUDGET

Military Expenditures, War Aftermath Account For Great Part Of Total

By WILLIAM A. KINNEY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21—President Truman presented a $35,860,000,000 federal budget to Congress today with his assurance that for the first time in 17 years no increase in the national debt will take place.

Military expenditures and the aftermath of war account for almost three-fourths of the budget total.

The President estimated that the government will raise $31,513,000,000 toward meeting the bill for the fiscal year beginning July 1, thus leaving a deficit of $4,347,000,000.

The deficit, however, will be taken care of, he said, "by a reduction in the very substantial balance which will be in the treasury during the next fiscal year". In fact, the debt itself will be pared from its present $278,000,000,000 to $271,000,000,000 18 months hence, he said.

Opposes Further Tax Cut

Mr. Truman, however, called for taxes to be held at present levels.

"Inflationary pressures still appear dangerously powerful," he told Congress in his annual budget message, "and ill-advised tax reduction would operate to strengthen them still further. This is not the time for tax reduction."

Comparing the new 1947 budget with the current one, the chief executive said that with war spending cutbacks the total for the 1946 fiscal year now is estimated at $67,200,000,000. Receipts are placed at $38,600,000,000, leaving a deficit of $28,600,000,000.

Salient features of the 1947 budget follow:

1—National defense, occupation and war liquidation will cost $15,000,000,000, including $1,200,000,000 for the UNRRA.

2—Veterans' pensions and benefits are set down for $4,208,000,000.

3—$5,000,000,000 is earmarked for servicing the war-swollen national debt.

Atomic Funds Secret

4—Provision is made for continued work in the field of atomic energy, but this is a secret item and the funds involved were not disclosed.

5—International financial programs will require $2,754,000,000. These include the Bretton Woods agreements, Export-Import bank operations and expenditures arising from the proposed loan of $3,750,000,000 to Britain.

6—General government running expenses are estimated at $1,565,000,000, exclusive of army and navy, agricultural aids, public works and social security payments.

7—More than $2,000,000,000 is included for aids to agriculture and for the Commodity Credit Corp., largely for price stabilization and price support resulting from the war food production program.

Mr. Truman said his budget estimates "are based on the assump-

Won't Budge From Ideals, World's Told

By ALEX H. SINGLETON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21—President Truman today laid down an American foreign policy to preserve peace on the basis of "justice no less than upon power", but he served firm notice that this country will refuse to sacrifice "its ideals or its vital interests" when difficulties arise among the United Nations.

Citing 1946 as the "year of decision" for the gigantic problems perplexing the world, Mr. Truman told Congress in the first peacetime state of the Union message in five years that "the whole power and will and wisdom" of this nation must be rallied "to contribute to and to influence international action".

He saw in the first general assembly of the United Nations "the real beginning of our bold adventure toward the preservation of world peace, to which is bound the dearest hope of men".

But the chief executive emphasized that formation of the new international organization constitutes only a "minimum essential

Reds Launch Drive To Name One Of Group President

By The Associated Press.

PARIS, Jan. 21—The Communist party launched a drive today to name a communist as the successor to Gen. Charles de Gaulle, who resigned the provisional presidency of France last night following a cabinet crisis.

Gen. De Gaulle stepped down from the presidency with an announcement that he considered he had completed the task of "leading the country toward liberation, victory and sovereignty".

In a letter of resignation addressed to Felix Gouin, president of the constituent assembly, he said:

"If I agreed to remain at this government post after Nov. 13, 1945, it was to respond to the unanimity with which the national constituent assembly addressed itself to me to make care of a necessary transition. Today that transition has been effected. Besides, France, after great trials, no longer is in a alarming situation. . . ."

May Call Meeting Today

Party leaders met in a special conference and are expected to call the assembly into session either later today or tomorrow.

Although his secretary said the resignation was "irrevocable", some political sources predicted that Gen. De Gaulle might be prevailed upon to form a new government or to reconsider his resignation. The latter sources said the announcement he would retire from public life had been "a political gaffe (blunder)".

The communists, after holding a conference with representatives of the more conservative Popular Republican Movement party (MRP), announced that they will remand

Continued Subsidies Wanted To Block Jump In Food Costs

By OVID A. MARTIN, Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21—President Truman called on Congress today to retain food subsidies as one means of combatting inflation and a possible 8 per cent jump in the cost of living index for food.

This request, made in the chief executive's state of the Union and budget message, represents an about-face by the administration on subsidies. It had planned to end most of them by their June 30 expiration date.

Started early in the war to keep food prices stable, the subsidies have been costing the government about $1,750,000,000 a year.

Mr. Truman said that unless the subsidies are continued "it will become extremely difficult for us to control the forces of inflation".

He estimated withdrawal of the subsidies would force increases of from 3 to 5 cents a pound in average prices of meat; at least 12 cents a pound for butter, in addition to a 5-cent increase allowed next fall; 1 to 2 cents a quart for milk; 1 cent a loaf for bread, more than a cent a pound for sugar, and 8 cents a pound for cheese, in addition to a scheduled increase of 4 cents Feb. 1.

The President also asked the

BIGGER OUTPUT OF LOWER-COST GOODS ADVISED

Renews Plea To Congress To Act Speedily On His Major Legislation

By HAROLD D. OLIVER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21—President Truman asked Congress today to get behind a sweeping program he said will promote greater output of lower-cost goods by higher-paid workers.

And he cautioned that "voices of disunity" which "are beginning to cry aloud again must not prevail".

In a 25,000-word document combining for the first time both lawmaking and budget recommendations, the chief executive mixed expressions of optimism over business and job potentialities with fresh warnings against inflation and concern over "major strikes".

In the "state of the Union" portion of his message, Mr. Truman termed establishment of a "fair wage structure" the "most serious difficulty" in the path of reconversion and expansion.

Better Relations Urged

He said labor and management must establish "better human relationships".

Mr. Truman said most industries and most companies "have adequate leeway within which to grant substantial wage increases".

Elaborating on his higher-wage theory, he said:

"Good wages mean good markets. Good business means more jobs and better wages. Substantial wage increases are good business for business because they assure a large market for their products. Substantial wage increases are good business for labor because they increase labor's standard of living. Substantial wage increases are good business for the country as a whole because capacity production means an active, healthy, friendly citizenry enjoying the benefits of democracy under our free enterprise system."

The President called for action on his entire domestic program, including his proposal that strikes be held in abeyance while fact-finding boards investigate labor-management disputes.

Asks Antitrust Action

Full employment and greater production remained the keynote of his recommendations. But he struck one new note in calling for "major steps" by the government to enforce antitrust laws—suspended in a number of fields during the war—to "encourage new and competing enterprises in every way".

In the military field, Mr. Truman recommended an army - navy strength of 2,080,000 men for this calendar year and said continuance of the draft beyond its expiring date of May 15 will be necessary if enlistments do not obtain nec-

DISTRICT BLANKETED BY 3 INCHES OF SNOW

Much Of Ohio Also Covered; Cold Wave Seen Tonight

The first substantial snow of 1946 blanketed the East Liverpool district to a depth of 3 inches today, and the much colder weather predicted tonight is expected to preserve the white mantle.

Most of Ohio had 1 to 4 inches of snow in the storm that struck the country from New England to Virginia in the east and as far west as southern Missouri.

East Liverpool auto and bus traffic was slowed but there were no accidents reported, and the snowstorm did not deter the start of the free trash removal.

The scheduled collection of ashes and trash got under way this morning despite the heavy snowfall, Mayor O. Earl Greenawalt said. The weather may slow cov-

ATOM CONTROL UNIT APPROVED

Group Can't Force Secrets, Only Can Recommend

By The Associated Press.

LONDON, Jan. 21—Creation of a special commission to devise controls for atomic energy was approved by the political and security committee of the United Nations assembly today after only 30 minutes of discussion.

The action was taken after Sen. Tom Connally (D) of Texas of the American delegation said the commission will not have power to make any country give up any atomic secrets or take any other action

Forty-six votes were cast for the resolution approving creation of the commission and Chairman Dritmi Maniulsky of the Ukraine delegation said that the action was unanimous. However, the delegate from the Philippines, Tomas Cabili, abstained after he had protested against what he called an effort to "railroad" the resolution through the committee.

Andrei Gromyko, Soviet delegate; Ernest Bevin, British foreign secretary, and Sen. Connally urged the committee to act immediately and Mr. Bevin repeatedly arose to demand an approving vote.

"The commission is authorized to submit recommendations but not to compel action" by any state, Sen. Connally said.

His statement followed an early controversy within the American delegation, chiefly between Sen. Vandenberg (R) of Michigan and Secretary Byrnes, when Sen. Vandenberg questioned whether American atomic secrets were safeguarded adequately. Later, Sen. Vandenberg said the assurances given by Mr. Byrnes at the time and incorporated in Sen. Connally's statement today satisfied him.

Iran Premier Quits In Dispute With Russia

By The Associated Press

TEHERAN, Jan. 21 — Premier Ibrahim Hakimi resigned last night after asserting his efforts to negotiate with the Russians over Azerbaijan have failed.

Hakimi's fall was foreshadowed last week when he told parliament that his foreign policy had failed. He said efforts to negotiate with the Russians were unavailing and that he proposed to present the case to the United Nations Organization.

Today, Hakimi said he had told the shah he had "succeeded in placing Iran's case before the United Nations organization and I am now ready to step down".

Truman Plans Vacation

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 — The White House reported today that President Truman may take a short vacation in Florida next month.

U.S. MAY SEIZE PACKING FIRMS

Step Hinted As Fact-Finding Unit Prepares To Meet

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Jan. 21 — Imminent government seizure confronted the strikebound meat industry today.

As a fact-finding board appointed by President Truman prepared to open public hearings here tomorrow in the 6-day-old walkout, high administrative quarters said major packing plants may be seized.

One influential government official, who declined use of his name, said the question of seizure will be discussed in Washington today.

Mr. Truman will have the final word in any decision to use the seizure weapon, this source said, adding that the President opposes seizures in labor disputes.

The emergency presented by the nation's fast-dwindling meat supplies requires immediate drastic action, the official said.

Conciliator attempts here to end the walkout of 263,000 CIO and A. F. of L. workers in the industry are deadlocked on the wage issue.

A member of the fact-finding board, E. E. Witte, expressed hope of a settlement within two weeks.

The shortage of meat might become even worse if 50,000 members of the unaffiliated National Brotherhood of Packing House Workers, not now on strike, join the walkout. Don Mahon, president of this union, said that if present conciliation efforts fail, the brotherhood will file a 30-day strike notice.

FATHER ASKS SEARCH FOR MISSING WOMAN

East Liverpool police Saturday joined the search for Mrs. Elva Clutter, 18, after her father, Chester Payne, 1267 Hague ave., reported she has been missing since Wednesday and that he "suspects foul play."

Mr. Payne said his daughter has not been seen since she left the home Wednesday. She is 5 feet, 6 inches tall and has reddish brown hair and brown eyes, he said. She was wearing a light brown scarf on her head, a dark green tuxedo coat, a black jumper, pink anklets and brown and white saddle oxfords, the father added.

Her disappearance was reported to state police by radio through the Massillon station.

200,000 IN OHIO LEAVE WORK AS STRIKE STARTS

State Faces Darkest Hour Of Economic History; Mills Are Deserted

By The Associated Press.

Ohio faced the darkest hour in her economic history today as thousands of CIO United Steelworkers joined a nation-wide strike that is expected to leave some 200,000 idle in the Buckeye state—producer of 20 per cent of the nation's steel.

The steel stoppage, the largest strike in the state's history, began at one minute after last midnight and came as Ohio struggled with a troubled labor picture that shaped up like this:

IT'S MEAT supplies curtailed by more than 50 per cent through a national strike of CIO-A. F. of L. meat workers.

A THREATENED state - wide power blackout.

A VIRTUAL famine of bread and baked goods in the Cincinnati area, resulting from a 3-day walkout of 1,000 workers in 16 principal bakeries.

One Bright Spot

There was one bright spot in the picture. A 3-month-old wage dispute between the CIO-Federation of Glass, Ceramic and Silica Sand Workers and the management of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass and Libbey-Owens-Ford companies was settled in Columbus over the week end, calling 15,000 workers back to their jobs in factories in seven states—including plants at Toledo and Mount Vernon.

Normally bustling Ohio steel mills were bleak and virtually deserted today.

In the Youngstown district—the nation's fourth largest steel producer—some 40,000 workers will be affected directly by the dispute and another 35,000 will feel its results indirectly, District USW President James A. Quinn said.

The dispute left 50,000 idle in the Cleveland area and 11,600 in the Cincinnati section.

Although the start of the strike was called for 12:01 a. m. today, pickets appeared in most areas several hours earlier.

Let Maintenance Men Through

In most instances pickets are allowing maintenance employees and supervisors to pass freely through the lines. In the Warren plant of the Republic Steel Corp., however, union leaders said because the plant failed to issue customary white passes, only foremen will be allowed to leave and enter.

Main producers in the Youngstown section — Republic, the Carnegie - Illinois Steel Corp., the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co., the Wheeling Steep Corp., the National Tube Co. and the Sharon Steel Corp.—ceased steel making operations Saturday and completed finishing work yesterday.

A preliminary check by Republic showed pickets at plants in

394 JAP WAR PLANTS SEIZED BY M'ARTHUR

Many To Be Given To Allied Nations For Reparations

By The Associated Press.

TOKYO, Jan. 21—War plants which equipped Japan's losing bid for conquest were seized and placed under guard today by Gen. MacArthur, who indicated many of the factories will go to Allied nations for reparations.

The Allied command took over 394 Japanese aircraft plants, army and navy arsenals and war laboratories. Among these are 265 aircraft and parts plants listed by the Allied reparations commission as "first priority material" for removal to other nations.

Gen. MacArthur ordered cancellation of any previous permits to the designated installations for conversions to peacetime production, unless the installations are "immediately and absolutely essential to the civil economy".

The directive disclosed the Japanese have removed machinery from plants and equipment valued at millions of dollars has been allowed to deteriorate.

A story in the newspaper Yomiuri Hochi that the government had decided to abolish the entire peerage system drew an official denial.

"That is not planned at present, although it might happen later," Chief Cabinet Secretary Wataru Harahashi said.

1,300 Big Mills Shut; Picketing Begins Orderly

By The Associated Press.

America's vast steel industry virtually was shut down by a strike of 750,000 CIO steelworkers today and the country's total of idle in labor disputes shot to a new postwar high—1,600,000.

A large segment of industry and millions of potential consumers of everything from automobiles to razor blades are bound to be affected. The strike machinery was set in motion quietly. Furnaces had been cooled in preparation for possibly a long shutdown. Production had ceased in most mills hours in advance of the 12:01 a. m. deadline. First reports said picketing was orderly.

About 1,300 plants in 30 states are closed. Pennsylvania's 300,000 steelworkers form the greatest concentration in cities whose names have become synonyms for steel—like Pittsburgh, Johnstown and Bethlehem. Pickets there tramped to their posts in swirling snow.

Henry J. Kaiser's steel mill at Fontana, Calif., is one of the few not affected by the strike. Mr. Kaiser signed a contract with the union Saturday, accepting the 18½-cent hourly pay raise recommended to the United States Steel Corp. by President Truman.

Government Seizure Not Considered At Present

U. S. Steel, bellwether of the industry, turned down the President's proposal, after the union had accepted it and no further government effort was made to halt the strike. The steel companies' highest offer was 15 cents. The original demand of the union was 25.

A high government official said last night that government seizure of the steel industry is not being seriously considered as yet. If the stoppage continues for a week, he added, the situation may change.

President Truman called in administration fact-finders for a consultation today. He arranged a conference at noon with three men recently appointed to seek a solution to differences between the steel management and the CIO.

Nathan Feinsinger, James M. Douglas and Roger I. McDonough compromise the board. There was no immediate comment from the White House as to the extent or scope of the conference.

It is a showdown fight between the steelworkers and the steelmakers. This country's hopes for a prosperous reconversion are involved critically because so much of American manufacturing uses steel and steel supplies are very small. A long, drawn out strike could break the back of reconversion.

The steel industry — according to a steel industry authority who should know—will lose through the strike about $10,000,000 a day in gross revenue it would have received on its steel sales if there had been no strike.

The industry's average daily wage has been computed at $8.69. At that rate, 750,000 workers will lose $6,517,500 each day they remain idle.

The picketing started quietly. The strikers have had plenty of time to get ready for this day. The union has been arranging with various companies to let maintenance crews pass through the picket lines so the plants will not suffer damage by their inactivity.

Questions in the union and U. S. Steel headquarters brought virtually the same answer at the 12:01 a. m. deadline: "Nothing to report. We're just sitting around, waiting for the strike to get under way."

President Philip Murray of the CIO came to Pittsburgh from Washington Sunday and went to his home. But he will make a nation-

CIO Vows Finish Fight

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 21—President Philip Murray of the CIO United Steelworkers declared today that the steel strike will continue "until this industry accepts the decision of the President of the United States".

He referred to President Truman's recommendations that the steelworkers' wage dispute be settled with an increase of 18½ cents an hour, which was rejected by the U. S. Steel Corp.

POWER WALKOUT THREATENS CITY

CIO Utility Union Schedules Strike Night Of Jan. 30

If the 3,500 employees of three major power-producing concerns in Ohio go ahead with their strike scheduled for the night of Jan. 30, the East Liverpool district will suffer a sharp curtailment in the use of electricity.

That was the comment today of Ralph T. Couch, local manager for the Ohio Power Co., who was awaiting final word on a conference held Sunday with CIO members employed by Ohio Power.

20-Cent Raise Asked

The Utility Workers Union of America is asking a 20-cent hourly increase for employees of Ohio Power, Ohio Edison Co. and the Dayton Light & Power Co., and Joseph A. Fisher of Cleveland, international union president, said last night the strike would be called unless the demands are met.

Ohio Power operates generating plants at Brilliant and at Philo near Zanesville, and with the West Penn-Monongahela system operates the Windsor Power Co. plant at Beech Bottom, W. Va., north of Wheeling, serving the East Liverpool district and consumers in central and northern Ohio.

Ohio Edison has a large plant at Toronto, at Lowellville near Youngstown and at Cuyahoga, producing power for Lisbon, Salem, Akron, Youngstown and other northeastern Ohio cities.

The Dayton utility supplies residential and industrial users in 24 counties in the area. H. K. Fitzpatrick Jr., public relations director for the firm, said company and union officials will meet today in an effort to reach a solution.

Industries To Curtail

Mr. Couch said efforts would be made to obtain power from out-of-state plants to maintain electricity for households, food stores where spoilage might occur through lack of refrigeration, the hospital and other essential users, but that industry would be compelled to curtail generally if the strike develops.

Idle Steelworkers Jam USES For Doubtful Compensation

The U. S. employment office on Market st. was so jammed today by idle steelworkers seeking to file compensation claims that the manager appealed for the strikers to delay registration until the CIO and the Pennsylvania state department arranged to handle claims at the Midland union hall, starting next week.

Spence Krigbaum, local USES manager, said 50 to 75 men were on hand to file claims when the local office opened and that several hundred in all appeared today.

Pointing out that it takes 15 to 20 minutes to register each claim, Mr. Krigbaum said the office lacks the facilities and personnel to handle such a rush.

"It means a long wait if they file here," he added.

The CIO has asked its members to file in Midland, and Mr. Krigbaum said that arrangement will offer better service.

The Pennsylvania department of unemployment compensation and CIO union heads will confer Thursday, according to Bert Haugh, regional director of the United Steelworkers of America, after which claims will be received starting Monday through a co-operative agreement with the state and unions.

This is being done to avoid impossible jams at the Rochester and other district offices of the

JUDGE ASSAILS TAFT FOR BACKING BRICKER

By The Associated Press.

COLUMBUS, Jan. 21 — Common Pleas Judge Walter B. Wanamaker of Akron has criticized U. S. Sen. Robert A. Taft, Cincinnati Republican, for endorsing former Gov. John W. Bricker for senator and asked if there is a "deal" between Sen. Taft and Mr. Bricker for Ohio presidential delegates at the next national convention.

Mr. Bricker said recently he would seek the Republican nomination for senator in the May primary, but withheld formal announcement.

"Your endorsement of John Bricker for U. S. senator is good reason for Ohio Republicans to wonder why as senator from Ohio you should declare yourself in a party primary campaign before knowing who the candidates are to be," Judge Wanamaker wrote in an open letter to Sen. Taft.

"Endorsements made before filing day can serve no purpose but to settle competition."

3RD CANDIDATE FILES AS DISTRICT SENATOR

Atty. Robert L. Quinn of Steubenville announced his candidacy today for state senate, the third to file from the 20th-22nd district, which includes Columbiana, Belmont, Harrison and Jefferson counties. He will seek the Republican nomination at the May 7 primary. The district elects two this year for the next two terms.

Mr. Quinn served as Jefferson county's representative in the general assembly in 1943-44, and has practiced law in Steubenville since 1931.

He attended the public schools in Mingo Junction and was graduated from Ohio Wesleyan university in 1928, and from the University of Michigan in 1931.

He has served as president of the Jefferson County Bar Association, Steubenville Kiwanis club and the Steubenville Auto Association. He is a director of the Jefferson County Farmers and Sportsmen's league, vice-president of the Social Service union and is a former exalted ruler of the Elks lodge. A member of the Methodist church, he is married and has two children.

FALL FROM CAR CLAIMS SOLDIER

Pvt. Leslie Farmer, Former Local Resident, Victim

Pvt. Leslie Farmer, 37, of Beaver Falls and a former East Liverpool resident, died Saturday in the Province hospital in Beaver Falls from a fractured skull suffered in an automobile accident on Friday night.

Pvt. Farmer, home on a furlough before reporting to a Florida camp, was visiting at the home of his cousin, Vernon Little, in Patterson Heights. Mr. Little told police that he and Pvt. Farmer were driving in Beaver Falls when he heard the back door open. He turned to see the soldier plunging to the street.

Pvt. Farmer was in the army for three years, including 18 months overseas. Following his discharge he had re-enlisted and was awaiting orders when to report for re-assignment.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Farmer, he was born Jan. 1, 1909, in East Liverpool. He leaves his mother, Mrs. Jessett Farmer of Indiana; a daughter, Twyla Farmer, and a son, Ellsworth Farmer of Beaver Falls, and a sister, Mrs. Ruth Piquinot, also of Indiana.

The body was taken to the Deshon (Pa.) Veterans hospital at Butler for a post-mortem examination and then removed to the Warrick funeral home in Columbiana. A military funeral will be conducted Tuesday at 2 p. m. in the Clarkson Presbyterian church. Burial will be in the Clarkson cemetery. His mother formerly resided in Clarkson.

Friends may call at the funeral home.

Local Man's Nephew Loses Baby Among 3 Dead In Alliance Fire

A flash fire that swept an Alliance apartment in a three-family dwelling Sunday claimed the lives of three, including the 15-month-old daughter of the nephew of Arnold W. Devon of Ohio ave., recent mayor.

The baby, Michel, the child of Corp. and Mrs. Robert Devon, who on Saturday became the parents of another daughter, Patricia, in Alliance City hospital. The young mother has not been told of the tragedy to her first-born.

Corp. Devon, who is being flown home from his camp in Louisiana, is the son of Harry Devon, brother of Arnold. Corp. Devon's wife's mother, Mrs. Thelma Nall, 44, and the latter's sister-in-law, Mrs. Helen Nall, 40, of New York, also lost their lives.

Al Nall, husband of Mrs. Thelma Nall and operator of Sunset park near Alliance, is in the hospital there with third degree burns and injuries suffered in a jump from a second-story window, and his brother, Clarence Nall, husband of Mrs. Helen Nall, is suffering from near-asphyixiation.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Nall arrived in Alliance Friday from New York for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Al Nall, who were looking after Corp. Devon's daughter while the soldier's wife was in the hospital awaiting the birth of their second child.

Fire Chief John E. Held said the fire occurred in the apartment occupied by the soldier's wife, apparently from an abandoned cigarette. The Nallses reside on the second floor.

Five persons in an adjoining apartment and three in a third-floor apartment made their way to safety without injury. Firemen rescued the Nalls brothers.

The fire was extinguished quickly with a loss estimated at $3,000.

Arnold Devon, who had been ill for about a month, and Mrs. Devon will attend the funeral in Alliance, if his condition improves meanwhile.

Joseph S. Durbin

Joseph S. Durbin, 67, former Chester potter, died Saturday in his home, 237 South Eighth st., Steubenville.

Mr. Durbin was born in Beaver county, Pa., April 4, 1878, a son of the late Thomas S. Durbin and Margaret Matts Durbin. He lived in Chester until 33 years ago when he moved to Steubenville to work for the Steubenville Pottery Co.

He was a member of the Calvary Methodist church of Steubenville.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Durbin; two daughters, Mrs. Ila Speaks and Mrs. Velma Davis of Steubenville; two sons, Harold Durbin of Steubenville, and Clarence S. Durbin of East Liverpool, and seven grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 1:30 p. m. in the Calvary Methodist church in Steubenville. Burial will be in Woodlawn cemetery there.

Friends may call at the late home.

PIN-UP BABY WELCOME. Sgt. Albert A. Kohler of Larchmont, N. Y., swept his pin-up baby into his arms aboard the U.S.S. Lake Champlain as the great transport docked at New York. The little girl is the sergeant's 4-year-old daughter Mimi and was chosen by Sgt. Kohler and his buddies as the pin-up queen of the Sixth army medical depot company. Mrs. Kohler looks on as some of the G.I.'s get a first-hand peek at their favorite little lady.

Truman Asks Quick Action On Key Plans

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21—President Truman asked Congress today to act on a revised 21- topic legislative program, all of which he had recommended on various dates since last September.

In addition he added these five new planks to his program:

1—Extension of the price control act for one year from next June 30.

2—Extension of the second war powers act, including priority and inventory controls, beyond June 30, presumably another six months.

3—Continuation of food subsidies beyond June 30, with the provision that they stop if the cost of living declines below present levels.

4—Legislation creating a permanent housing agency.

5—Extension of the selective service act beyond the present expiration date of May 15 "in case the campaign for volunteers does not produce" the needed number. The President called for action on this before April.

Here are the original 21 measures Mr. Truman listed by numbers:

1.—A law to give fact-finding boards greater power in labor disputes.

2.—A so-called "full employment" bill such as that passed by Senate.

3.—Supplemental unemployment insurance benefits.

4.—A permanent fair employment practice committee.

5.—Raising the statutory minimum wage from 40 to 65 cents an hour now, to 70 cents after one year, and to 75 cents after two years.

6.—A scientific research agency.

7.—A health and pre-paid medical care program.

8.—Universal military tarining.

9.—Increased federal salaries.

10.—Unification of the armed services.

11.—Presidential succession legislation.

12.—A law to cever domestic use and control of atomic energy.

13.—Retention of federal control over the U. S. employment service, at least until June 30, 1947.

14.—Increased unemployment allowances for their term of military service.

15.—Social security coverage for veterans for their term of military service.

16.—Extension of crop insurance.

17.—Authority to sell surplus merchant ships and to charter vessels both here and abroad.

18.—Stock-piling of strategic materials.

19.—Federal airport legislation.

20.—Repeal of the Johnson act barring private loans to nations in default on their World War I debts to the U. S.

21.—Development of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence seaway.

WAGES

essary replacements of those demobilized.

He urged the "greatest dispatch" in the work of the United Nations commission to control atomic energy and expressed "great hope" for development of "mutually effective safeguards" in such control.

While reserving for a later message detailed discussion of the proposed $3,750,000,000 loan to Britain, Mr. Truman said granting this credit would contribute to "easing the transition problem of one of our major partners in the war".

Sees Business Outlook Bright

He said for the immediate future the business prospects "are generally so favorable that there is danger of such feverish and opportunistic activity that our grave postwar problems may be neglected".

Domestically, he said industrial peace will have to be achieved through collective bargaining "with government assistance, but not government compulsion".

Mr. Truman reserved for the last a warning against "disunity".

"We have won a great war—we, the nations of plain people who hate war," he declared.

"During this trial, the voices of disunity among us were silent or were subdued to an occasional whine that warned us that they were still among us. Those voices are beginning to cry aloud again. We must learn constantly to turn deaf ears to them. They are voices which foster fear and suspicion and intolerance and hate."

The President repeated that demobilization is proceeding as quickly as possible.

He renewed requests for action by Congress on 21 pieces of legislation, including measures to raise mimimum wages, to extend price and rent controls a full year beyond June 30 and to extend priority and inventory controls of the second war powers act beyond its June 30 expiration date.

Housing Ceilings Urged

He also asked again for legislation to provide ceiling prices for old and new houses, universal military training and merger of the armed services and said food subsidies should be continued.

The President said of his list today:

"A few—a very few—of these recommendations have been enacted into law by the Congress. Most of them have not. I urge upon the Congress early consideration of them. Some are more important than others, but all are necessary."

Terming inflation "still our chief worry", Mr. Truman said that because of its "dangerously powerful" pressures and because future governmental costs call for large revenues, he cannot recommend any further tax reduction now.

In urging further extension of price controls, he said the cost of living index rose only three per cent since the Roosevelt hold-the-line order of May, 1943, because price controls were administered vigorously.

"The inflationary pressure on prices and rents, with relatively few exceptions," Mr. Truman asserted, "are now at an all-time peak. Unless the price control act is renewed, there will be no limit to which our price levels would soar. Our country would face a national disaster."

He recommended emergency and permanent housing legislation.

On the long-range side, the President recommended prompt enactment of legislation along the lines of pending bills to set up a permanent national housing agency to encourage better housing for low income groups.

Kimmel Asserts Japs Made Biggest Mistake By Not Blasting Base

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 — Rear Adm. Husband E. Kimmel testified today the Japanese made their "greatest mistake" by attacking the American fleet at Pearl Harbor and failing to put the base itself out of commission.

In his sixth day before a Senate-House inquiry committee, the former Pacific fleet commander, said it was probable no attack would have been attempted if the American ships had been sent back to the west coast.

Rep. Gearhart (R) of California said there had been "a studied effort, almost a frantic effort, on the part of some committee members to develop the idea that the presence of the fleet in Hawaii was in some way a deterrent to Japan".

Was it such a deterrent on Dec. 7, 1941, he asked.

"They made an attack, sir", Adm. Kimmel replied.

Rep. Gearhart expressed belief that the youngest ensign in the Japanese navy would not have been so foolish as to counsel an attack on the fleet if it had been on the west coast.

"The Japanese did a lot of foolish things in the war", the witness said. "Their greatest mistake was the attack on Pearl Harbor".

He added that the Japanese might have caused more effective damage if they had destroyed the Pearl Harbor base. He said damage was "negligible" to permanent installations, used to repair damaged ships and keep the other units operating.

Rep. Gearhart brought out Adm. Kimmel's opinion that it would have been much easier to defend the fleet on the west coast.

Chester's Boy Scouts To Pick Candidates At Party Rallies Tuesday

Joining other district Boy Scouts in a mock election, scouts of troops 26 and 27 in Chester will hold a special caucus Tuesday night at 7:30 at the Chester city hall to select party candidates for the general election Feb. 5.

The Chester scouts are carrying out West Virginia's election system which calls for party conventions instead of the primary elections held in Ohio.

At the caucus, members of the two troops will be divided into the "Bulls" and the "Bears". A chairman and clerk will be elected by each party, and nominations made from the floor for mayor, city clerk and five council positions.

Votes will be taken in each party to pick candidates for the offices. The successful entries will oppose each other in the general election Feb. 5.

As a climax to the mock election, the winners in the general voting will serve one day in the offices to which they are named.

"SO YOU CAME ALL THE WAY FROM YOUNGSTOWN JUST TO PUT IN MY PHONE!"

● An Akron housewife recently was amazed to learn that an installer had come all the way from Youngstown to put in her telephone service . . . and on Sunday, too. That to her was service plus.

But the incident is one of many unusual steps being taken by us throughout the state to catch up with the demand for telephone service that piled up during the war.

When new exchange equipment in Akron made possible connection of more telephones than the local forces could handle quickly, an S. O. S. went out to Youngstown and Canton. The next Sunday a caravan of 27 installation trucks rolled into Akron from these neighboring cities. As a result, service was installed promptly for a number of Akronites and we gained another lap on our way back to abundant telephone service for everyone.

This is the kind of teamwork that will enable us to complete the largest peacetime building program in our history during 1946 and to fill all war-delayed orders for service by the end of next year.

We Need A New Word

MOST urgent of the duties ahead of the country in 1946 is possibly the least attractive. It is to begin the reconstruction of confidence in the United States treasury.

It has been 16 years since the federal government's ability to reduce the national debt has been demonstrated; the debt has increased every year since 1930. It has grown from a prewar low of a little more than 16 billion to a postwar high of more than 278 billion and still is growing.

Under the monstrous fallacy that public debt is desirable and can be piled up forever, with no intervals of retrenchment to create room for emergency expansions when necessary, the government has been held to a continuous policy of deficit financing.

It was argued before World War II that the unnaturally high expenditures of World War I justified whatever the government chose to spend during the depression. It now will be argued, no doubt, that the still higher expenditures of World War II justify whatever deficits may be forthcoming in the years ahead.

The unattractive job that awaits doing is to prove that the nation is not committed to financial folly and that the American dollar can be secured against the threats that are implicit in all schemes for government to support the people.

The first major test will be President Truman's approach to his responsibility for submitting a budget. If he shows in his first budget any inclination to cut off unnecessary expenditures, for the purpose of bringing federal spending as close as possible to federal income, the job will be well begun. If he chooses, however, to continue his predecessor's policy of rejecting all proposals for curtailment and accepting every politically feasible proposal for expansion, his first budget will be the signal for genuine misgivings about the future of the federal budget.

Strictly defined, it is not really a budget and never has been. The word "budget" has a connotation of balance between income and outgo. Even under the most ideal conditions, it is impossible to strike a balance when so many billions of dollars are involved. President Truman will submit estimates of taxes and costs. If the total taxes come close to the total costs, the financial health of the United States will be secure. If the total costs far exceed the total taxes, the financial health of the United States will be no better than it has been since the beginning of the deficit financing era at the close of the Hoover administration.

85 Per Cent Favorable

IT IS improbable the White House will make the mistake of taking too seriously the 4,000 letters and postcards sent to President Truman since his criticism of Congress, even though 85 per cent are favorable to his case. Charles G. Ross, the press secretary who announced the 85 per cent estimate, is well schooled in evaluation of public opinion.

Four thousand letters is not an outpouring. Many of the letters would have been received anyway. The 85 per cent ratio of favorable letters, moreover, is not surprising; it might have been expected to be higher than that, on the assumption that few citizens are likely to be directly critical of a chief executive. If for no other reason, the publicity given during the war to the FBI's interest in correspondents who expressed themselves violently would hold down the volume of critical mail received by a president.

The more this government-by-coupon idea advocated by Mr. Truman is thought about, the sillier it gets. Obviously, he will not read his 4,000 letters, nor will his press secretary. Most congressmen admit they cannot begin to read all their mail. It is only a short step from the letter to Washington to a form prepared in advance, perhaps punctured so it can be run through a machine and tabulated. In fact, a kind of ballot already has been sent in to this newspaper by an enterprising citizen who evidently sees nothing absurd about the notion that all we need in Washington is a bunch of clerks to keep track of the outcome of issues that periodically will be placed before the people by remote control. After all, if congressmen were to become tabulators and cease to think of themselves as lawmakers, there would be no point in raising their salaries. Anyone who could count and figure out that 85 per cent of the ballots were favorable could do the whole job at the going rate for bureaucratic flunkies.

As early as the ninth century books were engraved in stone; ink was spread upon these forms and rough prints taken by hand from them.

The mediaeval kings and nobles used wood block monograms and printing inks to stamp their approving marks on chaters and other official papers.

The National airport at Washington covers 729 acres, and is 171 acres larger than New York's La Guardia airport.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Become A Gambler

I HAVE just been cleaning up my income tax for the year 1945 and have reached the conclusion that I am in the wrong business. Hard-working, ambitious, desirous of providing for my family, I should get out of this business and become either a black marketeer or a gambler on the stock market.

Unfortunately, I failed to pick the right parents and grandparents. Tommy Manville, Barbara Hutton and such people had more foresight. They now live on inherited wealth which is not taxed until you die, and then you don't need it because you can't take it with you.

But those of us who have to work for a living are up against the cold fact that the government of the United States has reversed the history and traditions of this country by directing every official trend toward a lower standard of living for the people.

Even more, hard work, ambition and thrift are discouraged by the income tax, which makes it utterly futile for anyone to be diligent and places a terrible handicap upon the honest. In fact, it is much sounder to be a crook, and the statistics of money out of circulation prove it.

In the year 1939, the total money of all kinds "in" circulation outside the treasury and Federal Reserve banks was $7,598,000,000. In October, 1945, that figure had risen to $28,049,000,000. That money is out of circulation. It is in safe deposit boxes, in shoe boxes, under mattresses, in old socks, anywhere that income tax inspectors are not likely to hit upon. It is true that occassionally a hoarder is caught, but smart folks take a chance that they won't be found out.

OF course, if a man has moral strictures against being a black marketeer or engaging in other rackets, he might take his chances on the stock market, which now is running wild, because if he holds his stocks six months, he only pays 25 per cent on the gains and he may have saved something on his earned income. If he nets a loss or goes broke, he pays nothing and he has had his fun.

The honest man hasn't a chance. A citizen who earns $10,000 over exemptions has to pay 41 cents on the dollar above that amount. That means that lawyers, doctors, dentists, public officials, small businessmen, junior executives and all such are stuck.

They cannot save a dollar unless they lower their standards of living. Caught between Chester Bowles' constantly-rising ceiling prices and the income tax, they grow poorer every year, and it does not matter if they work harder and earn more. The more they earn, the more they pay.

If you go up the line, it is even worse. Anyone who earns more than $38,000 over exemptions pays 72 cents on the dollar for every dollar earned above that figure. He might just as well leave the sweat and toil and headaches to Mr. Vinson and not earn that much.

I know from my own experiences that I do lots of things for 28 cents on the dollar that cannot be justified by the financial return. No use working if it brings nothing.

THIS is particularly tough on writers. A man spends 20 years of hard living to get the knowledge and experience which he puts into a book. It sells. He is advertised as earning a fortune—all of which comes to him within one year.

So he gets peanuts. It is the same with radio and screen folks. And some of them only last a short time. That is one reason why Joe Louis has to chase around the country with a band trying to get the shekels to pay taxes for a few good years and why nobody wants really to fight him for the championship.

The black marketeer and the stock exchange gambler and the man with a rich grandfather are the only ones who can beat the income tax racket. The rest of us are just poor simps. I announce now that I shall vote against my present congressman unless he produces a substantial cut in my income tax bill. Do likewise, brother. It's votes that knock them dead.

Aftermath Of Strikes

By Raymond Moley

THIS era of ill feeling easily can destroy the very basis of labor's arguments for higher wages. It is clear already that industry cannot now pay the real wages which were possible two months ago.

And if the same dollar wages are paid now, the need for higher prices will be sharpened by the damage done to the flow of materials and other essentials of production. In short, things are not what they were in November.

If immediate agreements were to prevail in the automobile industry, it would be weeks before the efficiency of the industry could be restored.

Shortages have developed, and for that reason alone many departments, and even whole plants, have been closed. The balance between supply and demand has been pulled badly out of shape.

The building industry is the latest to become worried over industrial prospects. Builders are short of glass and steel.

What commonly are called the "external" conditions of industrial efficiency have been damaged as much as the internal conditions. Alfred Marshall, a British economist of the World War I period, pointed out, with reference to the old doctrine of increasing returns, that efficiencies are external, as well as internal.

Among external conditions are domestic peace and tranquility. That tranquil certitude of the public mind which is commonly called "confidence" has declined in the last few months. The earlier popularity of President Truman has declined. He has not convinced people that he understands industrial relations, and few people feel that his domestic program is sound.

The uproar which still continues is causing increasing apprehension. Some wonder if all this is an effort to precipitate government management of plants.

Meanwhile, the shouts and murmurs of millions of G.I.'s are unsettling.

Forecasts, especially government forecasts, are upset because they were based on an assumption of high production, high wages and industrial peace. Now we shall have to lower our sights.

An incidental effect of a long series of strikes is the accumulation of a lot of idle money in the hands of merchants. New goods can't be bought fast enough. Purchasing power rolls up in the hands of middle-age-men.

Workers' savings in banks and mattresses are drawn on while wages are stopped. This money goes to stores for new goods, and there it stays. This situation has occurred before during depressions, but then merchants used the idle money to pay off their debts. This reduced the money in circulation and prices dropped. This time, the merchants have fewer debts. The money cannot be neutralized now.

Our calculations on inflation must be revised and revised again, if strikes continue. We shall be paying for industrial war before we fairly have begun to pay for the late shooting war.

Perpetual Motion

By Truman Twill

NOTHING is sillier than the argument that people should move from the country into town, from town into the country, or stay where they are.

Nearly everybody who get into the argument gets in on the wrong foot and never realizes the mistake. They waste their time arguing the economics of town vs. country when the real question is something else.

There are prosperous town folk eating out their hearts because they want to live in the country. There are starving farmers who can't wait to move into town. There are starving town mice who would starve in the country, too, and no-account country mice who wouldn't make a go of it on Main st. But that isn't the question.

The question is where all these assorted fits and misfits would be happiest in the long run. Chances are—and experience proves it—that urbanites who are making a go of it, but would rather live in the country, will make a success of the country too. Ruralites who have the right stuff in them will show it whether they live in farmhouses or apartments.

It is not where people should live to suit economists that's important, but where people should live to suit themselves. Economists as has been demonstrated abundantly in the United States during the last decade, aren't competent to take charge of human happiness.

Most of the townfolk who have found that little place in the country aren't looking for a new deal in economics, but a new deal in being alive. On the other side of the picture, the ruralites who traipse into town are looking for something they never found in the country.

Maybe they'll find it, but nothing can be guaranteed when people are looking for the privilege of going to sleep with a clear conscience and a minimum of nagging worries.

Some of the transplanted country mice will move back to the country and some of the migrant town mice will come wandering back to town eventually. Statistics prove they never quit.

They keep moving, driving economists nutty, upsetting the well-laid plans of other men and mice, spoiling real estate values, tempting inflation, losing their shirts, but sometimes finding peace.

The grass on the other side of the fence looks greener, whether the fence is down one side of the south 40, or along the boundry line of the lot next door.

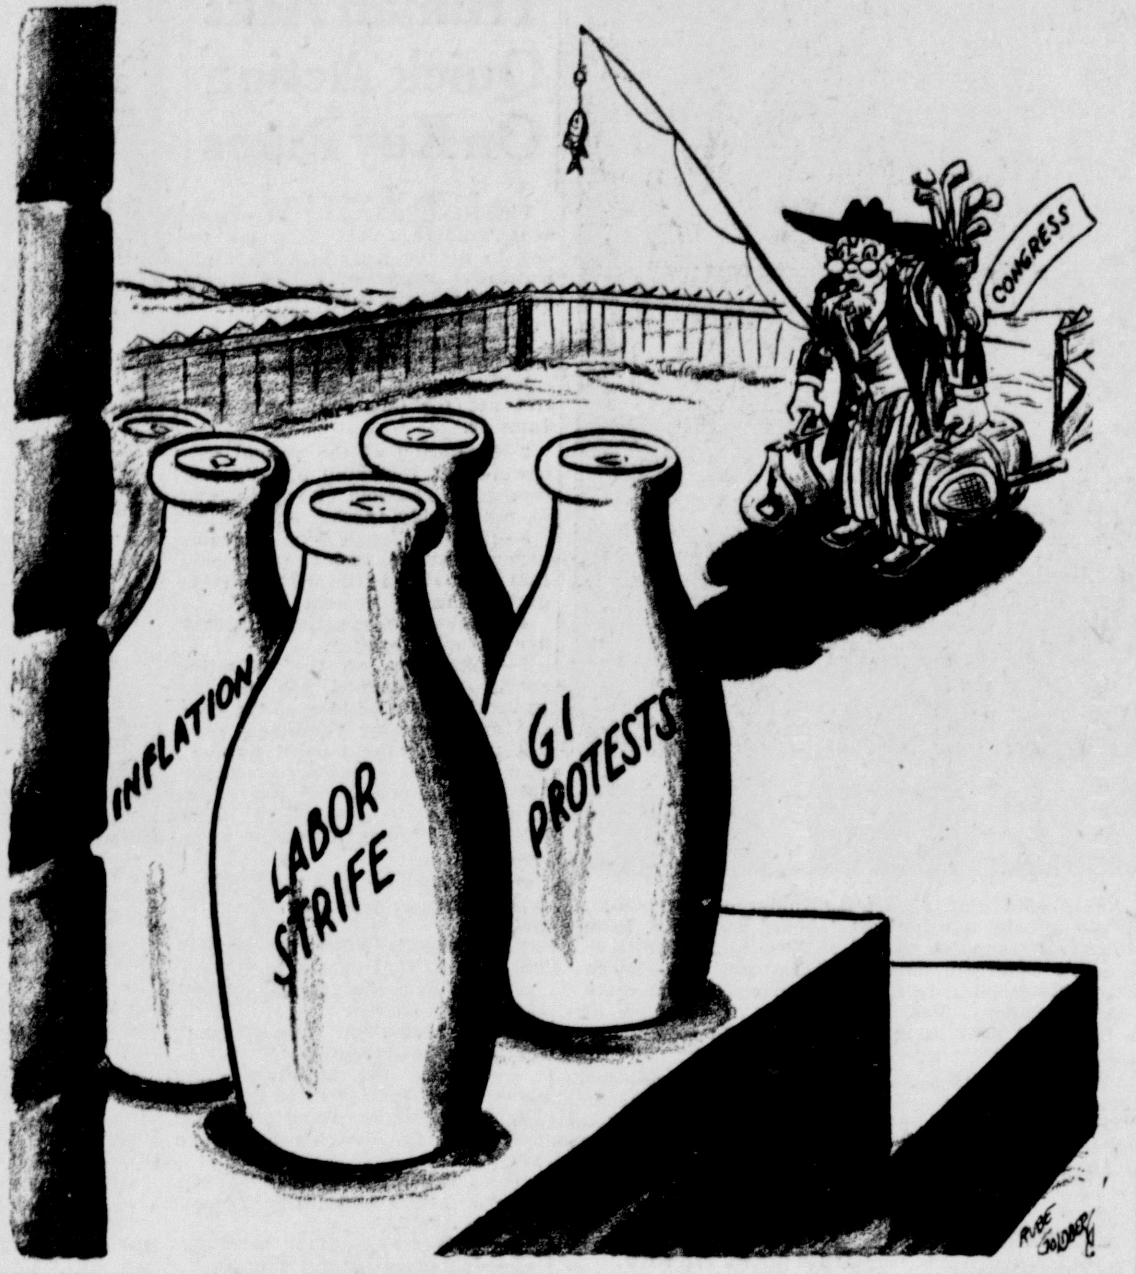
Sour Milk



In Reply To Mr. Welles

By Walter Lippmann

IN HIS most recent article Sumner Welles accuses the American government of having acted in bad faith.

No more serious charge can be made by a citizen against his government, none so damaging to its influence in the world.

Once it is made, especially by a person who speaks with authority, the damage is done, as it is when the honor of a man or the chastity of a woman has been impugned, even though the charge has not been proved.

Mr. Welles rests his charge on the indubitable fact that at Moscow in December Secretary Byrnes receded on two points which he had insisted upon at London in September.

He had said at London that he would not negotiate peace treaties with Bulgaria and Romania, as Mr. Welles puts it, "until representative governments had been freely elected in those countries". At Moscow he agreed to negotiate peace treaties before there was a free election in those countries, but provided their provisional governments were made somewhat, though no doubt not very much more, representative.

At London, Mr. Byrnes also had insisted that France participate in the negotiation of the Balkan treaties. At Moscow, he compromised on this point.

There is no question but that on both points he receded from the position he had taken previously. But that is not the whole story. And before Mr. Welles, or anyone else, has the right to pronounce so damning a verdict, he must consider—not omit even to mention—the rest of the story.

For as Mr. Welles expounds what happened at London in September, the picture he draws is absolutely and fundamentally false.

He makes it appear that at London the United States stood for a set of principles and that Mr. Byrnes, who had just inherited them, later abandoned them. But the truth is that at London the United States was not standing for the principles which Mr. Byrnes inherited. It was standing for them only in one small, specific area of the globe—in the Soviet sphere of influence. There, as Mr. Byrnes inherited the policy, we stood for an equal voice for all the great powers and many of the smaller ones.

BUT in the American sphere of influence we were opposed to this principle and in the determination of policy in Japan, China and the Pacific islands we were excluding not only France, though she is a Far Eastern power, and the Netherlands, Australia and New Zealand, which are Far Eastern powers, but also Great Britain and the Soviet Union.

At London, the moral position of the United States was untenable and utterly contradictory. Far from its being, as Mr. Welles' argument assumes, a position resting on high principles, it was a flagrant case of a double moral standard.

It is against this that the moralists who set up to make moral judgments must measure the transactions at Moscow. There were two alternatives—at least in theory—open to Mr. Byrnes at Moscow.

He could stand absolutely on the original principles which we had announced. If he did, then he had to revise our policy in the Far East and make it consistent with these principles. This would have meant the dethronement of Gen. MacArthur, and the renunciation of our exclusive claims in the conquered islands.

Since that was not possible, as I am sure Mr. Welles will have to agree, the other alternative was to narrow the gap between principles and policy by modifying the principles somewhat, by modifying Soviet policy somewhat and by modifying American policy somewhat.

This is in fact what was done and I for one think our moral position is better after Moscow than it was after London.

FOR it does not seem to me, as apparently it does to Mr. Welles, that at London the world regarded us as the champions of great principles.

The world was only too acutely aware that where our own interests were concerned we were acting on different principles. Therefore, in so far as Mr. Byrnes brought our principles and our practice nearer together, it was a moral advance. For it is better, indeed more honorable, not to have such high principles, but to conform to them yourself, than to impose the high principles on others and disregard them yourself.

Looked at this way, the evolution of American policy from London to Moscow can be judged quite differently than Mr. Welles judges it.

Because he looks only at our principles as we applied them to the Balkans in London and forgets our actual policy and practice in the sphere of our interests in the Pacific, he accuses the government of descending to bad faith.

But if we look at our policy and practice and then at our principles in the world as a whole, we may say, I believe, that we begin to ascend from a position which was most embarrassingly hypocritical.

Mr. Welles himself is in a position which is not free of embarrassment. He is ardent in saying that we ought not to negotiate with the Balkan states "until representative governments had been elected freely in those countries".

But when our government refuses to negotiate with Argentina, that does not suit him either. If we negotiate with a Bulgarian government that has not been elected freely, we are, he says, abandoning our "leadership . . . in the creation of a free and democratic world order". But when Spruille Braden refuses to negotiate with the present Argentine government, Mr. Welles complains that we are violating the sacred principle of non-intervention in the internal affairs of foreign countries.

Mr. Welles' passion for freely-elected representative governments is, therefore, greater in one continent than it is in another, and I find it hard to believe that the world will follow our moral leadership if our principles go higher and higher the farther they are from home.

The Washington monument, 555 feet high, is the tallest masonry structure in the world.

Congress Ducks

By Paul Mallon

CONFIDENTIAL canvassers have found Congress in almost total disagreement as to what will be done about strikes and the unions.

Twenty of the men, best placed to know, gave 20 differing private predictions. Many said from the first the steel strike would be settled, then autos, then the others. Interest would die, they predicted, while Congress argued without decision until after the election next November.

Others did not believe Congress could duck the problem any longer and expected various union-curbing enactments. But Mr. Truman had told his leaders privately he would veto anything which might be called an anti-union law.

Surely nothing opposed by the unions could get the two-thirds majority necessary to pass over such a veto. The confused and confusing predictions, in the last analysis, therefore, appeared to add up to just about the same total—nothing, or little-or-nothing.

A NICE, neat hole in the wall is quite evidently being dug, through which all may escape. A commentator or two started it with toothpicks, but behind them some congressmen are ready with drills.

This is a proposal to cut the Truman fact-finding bill down to fact-finding alone. It would be stripped of its power of subpena, to which General Motors objects, and the cooling off period of 30 days before strikes, to which the union objects. Just pass a law letting the President appoint commissions to find facts.

The only trouble about this escape is that too many people can see the hole. It might be better to go brazenly out the window, or keep arguing interminably and hope everyone will forget about the whole matter.

Such legislation simply proposes what already has been done. Without legislation, Mr. Truman has established precisely that kind of fact-finding. General Motors walked out on it.

The steel union planned a strike against it (fact-finding report was due Feb. 10 and the strike was called for Jan. 14), delaying only for direct negotiations, which Mr. Truman took into the White House before his fact-finding commission could report.

The question raised by such a permanent fact-finding law is:

Would anyone ever show up for the hearings? To handle the problem that way would be like waving back a windstorm with a feather.

If congressional leaders try to push their boys through this hole, there will be trouble. The labor committees of both houses are controlled closely by the unions. Nothing can escape them which is opposed by the unions, and nothing ever has.

On the open Senate and House floors however, their bill would be open to amendment by the attachment of every possible solution every congressman has proposed. The problem of Mr. Truman's leaders then would be to prevent any important action, and they are likely to wind up with conflicting bills from the two houses.

Certainly anyone looking for solutions from Congress must wear long-range glasses, and anyone looking toward consideration of the fundamentals of the problem will have to look hard. The plain fundamentals are these:

The unions have developed their strike technique to the point where they can tie up the nation any night. A simultaneous strike in telephones, telegraph and radio alone would nearly do it.

Add electrical workers, and you can see what four unions could do to the country. Add not the big railroads but the teamsters, who merely handle all freight in the cities, elevator operators and bus drivers, and you have the obliterative possibilities of a general strike from only a few unions.

I HAVE mentioned only a few of the strikes which already have been called in this campaign, but not yet simultaneously.

The unions, by rather clever timing of local strikes to keep pressure on the White House (first busses, then telephones without a real issue in either), and by preliminary and bolstering strikes in other cities, have used their new power to get an unprecedented wage increase which will average about 18 per cent, a figure representing just about what they expected to get from their demand for 30 per cent. (Mr. Truman is supposed privately from the first to have favored 20 per cent.)

The surprising development, in aftermath, will be that the companies, one by one, were able to stand up in opposition as well as they did, without help either from government or public.

These are the fundamental truths which will survive the confusions of fact now current.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The 1946 Automobile

Oh, fetch the motor ads to me
And let me read, my pet,
Of all the beauties of the car
I know I cannot get.
I want to know the shape and form
And sense the charms untold
Held by that lovely motor car—
Which is NOT being sold!

Oh, tell me what the wheel base is—
The length from "stem to tail",
Before I rush to get the car
That no one has on sale.
The form of bumpers I must know
And note each fixture grand
Before I take a thrilling ride
In something not on hand.

What is the radiator style?
Full facts I must possess
About the car nobody has
And no one gets, I guess.
What of the headlights and the hubs?
Oh, I would be afraid
To choose, without more facts, a bus
That isn't being made.

Oh, what about the hood, and does
It mark a brand new fad?
This must I know before I pick
A car that can't be had.
And is the body high or low?
I hate to bump my bean
When I get in a motor car
Nobody's even seen.

The windows, what about each one?
I crave an ample view
When I look out of any car
Detroit's not sending through.
The windshield, is it deep and wide
Providing vision fair?
I want the fullest outlook in
"The car that isn't there."

And what of the upholstery?
I hate to fret about
My comforts in a limousine
Nobody's turning out.
Those little gadgets all around,
So novel and so quaint—
How are these little gee-gaws in
"The motorcar that ain't?"

GERMAN PEOPLE TURN OUT HEAVY FOR FREE VOTING

Novelty Of Situation Rather Than Politics Brings Out Villagers To Polls

By The Associated Press.

FRANKFURT, Germauy, Jan. 21—Germans voted Sunday in their first free election in 13 years with an enthusiasm stimulated more by the novelty of the return of the secret ballot than by the politics involved.

First returns indicated clearly that the turnout exceeded predictions with as many as 90 per cent of the registered voters casting ballots in some villages.

With no major issues, the election was more of a popularity contest than a political function. Returns from 95 gemeinde (towns and villages) in Ashfield, the first landkreid to complete the count, showed unsponsored candidates leading with 8,925 votes, with left-wing socialists getting 7,430 and communists 389.

In Alsfeld, roughtly one-twentieth of the ballots were thrown out as "bad votes", indicating the Germans still need educating in the marking of ballots.

The Germans themselves supervised the elections, with the United States military government adopting a "hands off" policy. Nazis were barred from voting.

Nazis are known in several instances to have attempted to sabotage the elections by persuading qualified voters to stay away from the polls. The heavy vote showed, however, that those attempts failed in general.

Greek Elections Set

ATHENS, Jan. 21—Prime Minister Themistokles Sophouiis has agreed with Right and Center party leaders to hold Greek general elections March 31, but the extreme left wing adopted a resolution Sunday charging the government has not cleared the way for honest balloting.

An Obligation To Hollywood

U.S. Movies Have Marked Effect On Spain

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press News Analyst

Mr. Mackenzie

MADRID, Jan. 21—American motion pictures are having a marked effect on Spanish life and by the same token are destined to play their part in international relations — facts which impose on Hollywood the obligation of seeing that nothing which might damage is exported. To the Spanish public the Hollywood movies are the reflection of a Utopian way of life. America is the enchanted land of wonders and plenty. One very noticeable influence of Hollywood is on feminine hair dress, makeup and fashions. The women of Spain, who are among the most beautiful in the world, are copying American filmdom. American music also is being introduced in this manner, as well as American dancing—including jitterbugging.

The thing reaches deeper than that. The folks of Spain ar intensely interested in American automobiles, in our modes of travel, in the magic contrivances we have for the kitchen and in labor-saving equipment for our business offices.

AND the interest isn't merely academic. The Spanish are excellent copyists. They make adaptations of many things they see in pictures.

American movies are preferred in Spain. Last year 133 American pictures were released here and these were 62 per cent of all the films shown in the country. It's interesting to note that Mexican films released are increasing. According to available records two Mexican pictures were shown here in 1944, 13 last year and the forecast for this year runs to 50.

Spain herself produces an average of 40 pictures a year, but the industry still has far to go in development, which was hampered by the civil war of 1936-39 and the ensuing world war. This country is doing a magnificent job of sound retracting. This involves the substitution of Spanish dialogue for English and is difficult, since it calls for the synchronization of the English language lip movement and the Spanish language.

THE exchange of pictures should develop better acquaintance among the various peoples and this in the long run should help international relations. Some American pictures shown in Europe give a false impression of American life and morals.

For instance some types of gangster pictures are wholly untrue and misleading.

Pictures showing wholesale marital infidelity also create decidedly bad ideas about American morals.

In short, a lot of highly-imaginative and over-sophisticated pictures which citizens of the U.S.A. take in strike as utter fiction are accepted abroad as true. This type of picture can do more damage in a year than all the diplomats can repair in a generation.

And the moral of all this is that the selection of pictures in America for foreign consumption should be most carefully made.

Man Had Brick In His Stomach For 10 Years

One man recently stated that for 10 years he felt like he had a brick in his stomach. This feeling was due to the lump of undigested food he always had inside of him. He was weak, worn out, headachy, swollen wth gas and terribly constipated. Recently he started taking ERB-HELP and says the feeling like a brick in his stomach disappeared the second day. Bowels are regular now, gas and headaches are gone and he feels like a new man.

ERB-HELP contains 12 great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get ERB-HELP. Sold by all drug stores here in East Liverpool.—Adv.

PURSUED DRIVER WILL FACE TRIAL

2 Other Motorists Nabbed; 2 Accidents Reported

Municipal Judge Frank E. Grosshans today continued until 9 a. m. Wednesday the trial of a Vanport man charged with reckless driving and refusing to obey an officer's command to stop. He was arrested Saturday night near Smith Ferry by Patrolman John Graham.

The continuance was granted the defendant, Otmer G. Polk, 39, after his counsel, Atty. James E. Davis, asked time to summon a witness from Beaver county.

3 Drivers Arrested

Polk was one of three drivers arrested in week-end traffic. A Glenmoor man was charged with reckless driving after his auto careened into a service station near the city limits and struck a parked car, then continued 100 feet and crashed into an embankment, police said.

An Akron man was arrested north of the city limits on Route 30 by highway patrolman on a charge of speeding. Two other mishaps were reported in which no charges were filed.

Patrolman Graham said his pursuit of the Vanport man started in the East End. Polk ignored his signals to stop and drove east on Harvey ave. about 73 miles an hour, the officer said. The Pennsylvania man was over taken and arrested near Smiths Ferry about 9:21 p. m., he added. The judge continued Polk's $200 bond.

The Glenmoor driver, Roy E. McDole, 26, was taken into custody Sunday about 5:50 p. m., after his 1937 coupe swerved off route 30 and entered the service station lot, hitting a 1942 sedan owned by Elton E. Ely of Garretsville, then ran into an embankment, police reported. McDole was freed on $106 bond for a hearing today at 3 p. m.

$31 Bond Posted

The Akron man, identified as Jesse Brooks, posted $31 for his appearance today at 4 p. m. before Judge Grosshans after his arrest Saturday about 4:30 p. m. by Corp. Edward Mallery and Patrolman L. L. Russell of the state highway patrol sub-station at Salem, who reported he was driving 65 miles an hour.

Cars driven by Frank R. Stefle of Smiths Ferry, and Mrs. Anna Jones, 121 Washington st., collided Saturday at 1 p. m. on Harvey ave., police said.

Charles Harris of the Waterford Downs night club west of Wellsville reported his auto struck a parked car owned by Edward Hildebrand, 156 Laurel lane, as he pulled from a parking place on Broadway Saturday at 10 p. m.

School Truce Reached

FLINT, Mich., Jan. 21 — Some 27,000 Flint children returned to school today after a week's vacation enforced by a maintenance workers' strike. Both the board of education and the strikers, members of the CIO State, County and Municipal Workers union, agreed to a one-week truce to consider a compromise proposed by Conciliator Robert Lomasney of the state labor mediation board.

Truman Asks For Aid On Flood Control And River, Harbor Works

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 — Appropriation of nearly a third of a billion dollars for flood control and rivers and harbors projects was recommended to Congress today by President Truman.

In his 1947 budget message, the President asked that the army engineers be given $212,720,000 for rivers and harbors projects and $110,000,000 for flood control. The appropriations for the 1946 fiscal year were $191,489,600 and $118,299,600, respectively.

In addition, he proposed that $4,815,000 be allotted for planning river and harbor projects and $8,000,000 for flood control planning.

The rivers and harbors money, he said, would permit a start on the Florida barge canal and construction on the Atlantic, Pacific and Gulf coasts and the Great Lakes.

He referred to "comprehensive river basin flood control plans" on the Merrimac and Connecticut rivers in New England and the Susquehanna, Ohio, Missouri, Arkansas, White and Williamette rivers.

The program for the fiscal year, beginning next July 1, Mr. Truman said, also provides for planning of additional flood control projects.

DEGROOT TAKES COACH POST AT LOS ANGELES

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 — Dudley DeGroot packed up and left town today to assume his new duties as head coach of the Los Angeles club of the new All-America Football Conference. got a few things off his mind:

Before he departed, DeGroot One reason he quit the Washington Redskins last week after coaching them to the championship of the National League's eastern division the past season is he believes he is "stepping up to a bigger and better job."

He positively will not attempt to recruit any Redskin players for the Los Angeles team although he could use some of them.

He leaves the Redskins "with no hard feelings" and is grateful for the opportunity" to learn the "T" formation and to associate "with some of the greatest coaches in the game."

USES.

The Rochester office is not receiving any claims at present, but this delay will not affect claims that may be filed after next Monday, a spokesman said.

Pennsylvania permits immediate filing, although it is not necessary for five weeks, while Ohio requires a week's wait. Mr. Haugh said Pennsylvania will pay compensation, although Ohio has not indicated if strikers will receive idleness benefits.

Claimants included employees of the Patterson Foundry & Machine Co. and the National Drawn Steel division in East End, who are covered by the Ohio law, and those living here but who work at Pittsburgh Crucible Steel Co., Treadwell Construction Co. and Mackintosh-Hemphill Co. in Midland and are covered by Pennsylvania.

All five plants were down completely meanwhile as pickets of the striking United Steelworkers of America kept patrols at the main gates.

Supervisory and maintenance men were being allowed to enter the plants.

The snow cut into the number of pickets, but those on the line were using "salamanders" made of oil drums for heat during their cold vigil.

The Midland CIO headquarters was ladling out coffee to men on the picket line.

The strike which began officially Sunday midnight, was a mere formality. Most of the affected plants already had banked their fires and cooled off equipment Saturday without waiting for the deadline.

About 8,000 employees of the five district concerns are idle.

OVERSEAS VET CLEARS HIS MIND OF 1941 FINE

By The United Press.

BILLINGS, Mont.—Through 29 months of army campaigns in Africa, Sicily, England, France, Belgium and Germany, the soldier's conscience bothered him. So now a fine assessed in 1941 has been scratched from police records here.

Frank Rothschiller, ex-serviceman who was formerly with the ninth division, pushed a $5 bill across the police desk to pay the fine chalked up against him four years ago for driving with improper license plates.

"I kept thinking about it, but couldn't get around to it", Mr. Rothschiller said.

Police Judge George J. Hutton returned the greenback.

HOW CAN I ? ? ?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.: How can I make a good shampoo?

A.: Cut a bar of pure Castile soap into small pieces. Pour enough boiling water on the soap to make a thick jelly. Beat until thickened. This will keep the hair and scalp absolutely clean and pure. Bottle and keep for future use.

Q.: How can I set the colors in wash materials?

A.: Add 5 cents' worth of sugar of lead to four quarts of water, dissolve and soak the goods for about 12 hours. Then rinse and dry in the shade.

Q.: How can I make a small, dark room appear larger?

A.: Net curtains will make a small room appear larger, and if the room is dark, try using light, thin materials for decorating.

STEEL

wide radio address at 10:30 p. m. today.

There was no indication that Benjamine F. Fairless, company president, will say anything.

The danger of a long strike to that part of American manufacturing which needs steel—probably 40 to 50 per cent does—was indicated in Washington by Civilian Production Administrator John D. Small.

He predicted a big share of the nation's factories will have to shut down or curtail production if the strike lasts two weeks. The reason: Small supply of steel on hand at many companies.

A plan for voluntary rationing of steel held by warehouses and jobbers went into effect today to conserve the available supply for emergency and public utility use.

The most unusual event yesterday happened at Lackawanna, N. Y., where three airplanes made five trips over CIO picket lines around a strikebound steel company plant.

The planes landed on company property and, a company spokesman said, brought in some "personal items, such as cigarettes and fresh milk and various small maintenance items for the plant".

Union officials talked of asking a government investigation. The company denied that the planes had been used to carry strikebreakers into the plant. The plant has been closed and picketed since Jan. 11 when the union struck following a strike maintenance dispute with the company.

This is the biggest steel strike—or any kind of strike—the country has seen. In 1919, steelworkers, perhaps 300,000 of them, when they were poorly organized. That strike was broken. About 100,000 took part in the 1937 "Little Steel" strike when the CIO was in the process of organizing mills.

In Detroit, John L. Lovett, general manager of the Michigan Manufacturers Association, predicted 500,000 workers in that industrial state will be idle within a month.

"Nobody has more than a 30-day supply of steel on hand, and some have a lot less," Mr. Lovett told reporters.

erage of the route, he added. The collection is scheduled this week on Route 1—including the Thompson hill section and all of the downtown section east of Market st. and north from East Second st. to McKinnon ave.

Street department crews have begun ashing streets, but probably the bulk of the job will not be done until the snow has stopped, the mayor said. Ashes spread on streets this morning would have been covered within a few hours by the rapidly-falling snow and would aid motorists little, he said.

Perry T. Ford, director of highways, said at Columbus some parts of the state had 4 inches and that roads were being cindered and sanded where necessary.

The slush in the streets was beginning to freeze early this afternoon. The weatherman added that Tuesday will be fair and continued cold.

Fake Tax Collector Gets $54.20 From Resident

A new breed of racketeer—fake income tax collectors — was disclosed today with disclosure that an East Liverpool resident was tricked into paying $54.20 as "additional income tax" by a man posing as a collector from the internal revenue office in Pittsburgh.

Corliss S. Myers, deputy collector in charge of the Market st. office, cited the case when he issued an appeal to the public to ask for credentials when approached for tax payments.

Mr. Myers said the man, who used the name C. B. Dailey, collected the money from a daughter of the family after arriving at her home by taxi and phoning her father, who was in Pittsburgh.

Agents of the federal bureau of investigation are seeking the man, who was described as tall, having dark hair and a mustache and in his early 30's.

Mr. Myers stated that taxes in the district are collected from the local office or by notice from the Cleveland regional office.

"We don't ride around in taxis either", Mr. Myers commented.

BLACK MARKET SPREE OF NAZI CHIEFS AIRED

By The Associated Press.

NUERNBERG, Jan. 21—Eager to strip occupied western countries of every scrap of food, even though it might mean famine, Hermann Goering and other Nazi leaders sponsored a huge German purchasing program in black markets in France and other occupied territories, the international military tribunal was told today.

The wild black market spree — into which the Nazis poured billions of francs seized from the French ostensibly to cover occupation costs—reached ludicrous proportions in 1942, with various German agencies bidding against one another, French war crimes prosecutors charged.

Wellsville Social Notes

A quiet wedding took place at high noon Friday in the First Methodist parsonage when Miss Muriel Rutledge Guinn, daughter of Mrs. Besse R. Guinn of Main st. and the late Charles Vernon Guinn, became the bride of Charles Spaeth, son of Mrs. Ellen Spaeth of Youngstown. Rev. William S. Snowball Jr. performed the double ring ceremony in the presence of the immediate family and friends.

The bride was attired in a blue gabardine suit with black accessories. Her corsage was of gardenias and baby breath. For something old she wore a strand of crystals belonging to her aunt, Mrs. C. W. Allcorn of East Liverpool.

The bride's sister, Miss Sara Vernon Guinn was maid of honor and wore yellow gabardine with black accessories. Her corsage was of red roses.

Edward Berg of Youngstown served as his cousin's best man.

The bride's mother wore pink and the bridegroom's mother was attired in gray. Both had corsages of gardenias.

Mrs. Spaeth is a graduate of Wellsville High school with the class of 1942 and is employed as a long distance operator by the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. in East Liverpool. Mr. Spaeth attended South High school in Youngstown and is employed by the Standard Slag Co. of Youngstown.

Following the ceremony a dinner for the bridal party was served in the Marine room of the Riverview hotel, after which the couple left for a two-week honeymoon in New York City, Washington, D. C., and Virginia.

Guests included Mrs. Faloon Jr., Mrs. Betty Guinn Havelock, sister of the bride, Mrs. Besse R. Guinn, mother of the bride, and Mrs. Julia Haugh, all of Wellsville, Mrs. Ellen Spaeth of Youngstown, the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. C. W. Allcorn of East Liverpool and Miss Martha Miller of Chester, W. Va.

Members of the Jolly Eight club were entertained Friday night at the home of Mrs. Fred Leughmyer Jr. in Toronto.

Two tables of 500 were in play with prizes going to Mrs. Elvie McDevitt and Mrs. Walter Fistel and the consolation trophy to Mrs. Lee Crawford. Mrs. McDevitt and Mrs. Jay Mathess were guests.

Lunch was served by the hostess. The club will be entertained Feb. 1 by Mrs. Josephine Bradley of Arthur ave.

Potters Lose First To An Ohio Quint As New Philly Wins, 26-25

SPORTS
EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW

Liverpool Muffs Chances At Foul Line In Last 65 Seconds Of Thriller Here

By BOB SHAFFER, The Review Sports Editor

East Liverpool's unbroken chain of eight triumphs at the expense of Ohio quintets was snapped at the Memorial auditorium Saturday night when a flashy New Philadelphia team toppled the Potters, 26-25, in the season's most-thrilling spectacle on the local court.

The loss, the Potters' second in 10 games, was brought about, not by the all-around superiority of the invading Quakers, but the inability of the Blue and White to cash in on seemingly easy shots from the field in the first half and poor work at the foul stripe in the final minute of the fracas.

However, Coach Don Ogden's favorites have nothing to be ashamed of for they dropped the thrill-packed struggle to a well-balanced, well-coached combination. It was the sixth triumph against two losses for the Orange and Black.

The Potters were in front only in brief flashes of the first and third periods, and the Quakers were on the long end of the count, 11-5, at the close of the first period, the biggest margin during the battle, 13-12, at the half, with the score all knotted up, 19-19, at the third quarter station.

Big Paul Phipps, 6-foot-2 center, was the big thorn in the side of the Potters in the first chapter as he controlled the rebounds off both boards and tiped in three baskets and converted two-of-two from the foul stripe to pace the Quakers to their 11-5 margin at the first, but little Jack Singerman, switched to a guard, was the fair-haired youngster and hero when the chips were down in the final.

Singerman, Harris Hot

All he did in that torrid session was drop in two fouls in the first minute to break a 19-19 deadlock, and after his running mate, Errie Warmack, converted once, Singerman pumped in a one-hander to rocket the visitors to 24 before Jim Harris bagged the first of his three fielders of the period to Liverpool to 21.

The Potter shotmaker made it very uncomfortable for the Quakers seconds later when he looped a set shot from back court to pare the margin to one point, 24-23. Singerman again stepped into the picture, inopportunely for the Potters, and banked another one-hander through the net from the foul circle for what prover to be the winning points.

Lucky for the Quakers Singerman had his hot moments at that particular time because Harris again got set behind the foul circle and zipped the cords with another two-pointer to make it 26-25. Only seconds afterward, Harris again was set from almost the same spot, but this time the ball careened off the front part of the rim, hit the back part and bounced out.

With 65 seconds to play, however, Liverpool had the game virtually laid in its lap, but failed to capitalize on the golden opportunity. Bob Harris of Philly fouled the Potters' Allan Bailey as he was attempting a shot. One good one would have tied it and both would have brought home the bacon, but Lady Luck wasn't with Bailey and he blew both chances.

But that wasn't the last chance, either. The same Harris of Philly fouled Forward Bill Cain with 52 seconds left, but it just wasn't in the books, it seemed, for the Potters to win, and Cain muffed the foul try that would have knotted the score and probably would have sent the fray into an overtime session.

In the remaining seconds, the Quakers controlled the ball, with the Potters trying in vain to get one last shot.

Harris of Liverpool, off on his shot-making in the first half when he caged only one, got hot too late in the last period when he sank three more, but with a pair of gift tosses added to his quartet of fielders, was the top scorer in the closely-guarded battle with 12 points. Singerman of the Quakers collected 10 points, eight in the final quarter, and Phipps accounted for eight, all in the opening session.

Poor work at the foul line which has been evident in most games this season, finally caught up with the Potters Saturday night before the capacity audience of 1,500 fans. Field goals were even at nine-all. The Potters converted only seven of 14 chances from the free throw stripe, but the Quakers did even worse, making only eight on 21 chances.

Each lost a key player in the final period, Phipps fouling out in the first 90 seconds and Chuck Means, who held the touted Warmack scoreless from the field with sensational guarding, going out for the Potters just as the buzzer sounded the automatic time out, four minutes to play.

Timers came in for a share of the spotlight just as they were trying to sound the buzzer to end the first half. Warmack had converted from the foul line to break a 12-to-12 tie. Harris of Liverpool then let fly a shot from back court. The buzzer sounded as the ball arched into the air. The shot was true to its mark and split the nets for the two points that would have given the Potters a 14-to-13 margin. Bu tthe timers called Referee Andy Lindsay and Umpire Ray Sweeney and revealed the half had ended three seconds before Harris made his shot.

They explained when time officially had ended the half, the buzzer failed to sound when they touched it. Therefore, the shot was made three seconds after time had elapsed.

In a preliminary between two teams of the Liverpool reserve squad, the Whites defeated the Blues, 36-21.

Otters Face More Tests In Drive For Title

To Battle Denison, Wittenberg; 32 Tilts Slated

By HAROLD HARRISON
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Jan. 21 — Otterbein's drive toward a possible Ohio Conference basketball championship gets two more tests this week as the Cardinals, only unbeaten hardwood outfit in the state, meet Denison's downtrodden Big Red and Wittenberg's Lutherans.

Those tilts are part of a 32-game program for the week which also will be marked by two more tough assignments for Ohio State's Bucks.

Ohio State, which Saturday suffered its first defeat of the season at the hands of a college team, will meet Purdue at Lafayette tonight and Michigan at Ann Arbor Saturday night. The Bucks were out in front only once Saturday night as they dropped a 44-to-39 decision to Indiana.

Here is the week's schedule:

Bucks At Purdue

Monday—Ohio State at Purdue; Wilmington at Wilberforce. Tuesday—Bluffton at Ohio Northern; Wittenberg at Dayton; Ohio University at Marietta; Louisville at Cincinnati; Wednesday—Baldwin-Wallace at Kent State; Bowling Green vs. Valparaiso at Fort Wayne, Ind.,: Otterbein at Denison; Ohio Wesleyan at Miami. Thursday—Fort Wayne (Ind.) General Electrics at Defiance; Muskingum at Akron; Wittenberg at Kenyon; Cincinnati at Wilmington; Toledo Naval Armory at Toledo; John Carroll at Assumption.

Friday — Muskingum at Kent State; Xavier at Marshall; Hiram at Thiel; Fenn at Mt. Union; Wilberforce at West Virginia State. Saturday—Ohio State at Michigan; Baldwin-Wallace at Oberlin; Xavier at Bowling Green; Case at Ohio Wesleyan; Kenyon at Wooster; Otterbein at Wittenberg; Detroit at Western Reserve; Cincinnati at Ohio University; Defiance at Bluffton; Kent State at Heidelberg; Wilberforce at Rio Grande.

Otters, Rockets Ahead

Last week's competition left Otterbein and Toledo heading the Ohio Conference parade as Capital, Baldwin-Wallace, Wittenberg and Ohio Northern suffered their first league defeats. Both the Cardinals and the Rockets won Saturday night, Otterbein whipping Kenyon, 47-2, and Toledo tripping Wayne University, 47-5.

Bowling Green and Akron, two of the state's powerful teams, also won Saturday night engagements. Bowling Green had to come from behind, however, to trim Ohio University, 49-41. The Bobcats let Don Otten get away from them in the last half after holding the Big Bee center scoreless in the first 20 minutes. Otten tallied 12 points in Bowling Green's last half drive.

Akron had no trouble beating Ohio Wesleyan, 63-45.

Baldwin-Wallace was the victim of the night's major upset, taking a 48-to-44 beating from Western Reserve after having won eight of its first nine starts. It was the second defeat of the week for the Yellowjackets.

Fletcher Tops Denison

The college teams lost two games and won one to service quintets. Fletcher Hospital gave Denison its ninth straight defeat, 52-50, and Crile Hospital walloped Wooster, 60-39 Findlay, beaten only once this season, trimmed the Lockbourne Army Air Base, 53-33.

Other Saturday night results were:

Ashland gave Capital its second setback of the week, 47-41; Oberlin drubbed case, 54-30; Miami thumped Xavier, 67-46; Mt. Union whipped Hiram, 67-58; Cincinnati nosed out Marshall, 49-47; John Carroll trimmed Fenn, 45-39, and Wilberforce took its third setback of the week, dropping a 46-to-43 decision to Bluffton.

Here are the records of the Ohio colleges:

Chandler Says All Baseball Should Be Under One Head

By The Associated Press.

DALLAS, Texas., Jan. 21—Commissioner A. B. "Happy" Chandler says all baseball, including even the amateurs, should be under one head.

He also reveals that Negro diamond leaders have discussed the question of reorganizing their leagues on a basis that would permit their entry into organized baseball.

Here to speak at a sports achievement project, the commissioner at a press conference, disclosed that the presidents of the two Negro leagues had conferred with him, President Ford Frick of the National League and President Will Harridge of the American League.

Chandler said these conferences were at the request of the Negro league presidents and his disclosure came in reply to a question regarding the signing of Jackie Robinson, a Negro, into organized baseball.

Chandler said he was asked if he also would be commissioner for the Negro leagues. "I told them to get their house in order then come to baseball with a petition for recognition," Chandler declared. "The Negro leagues favor keeping their own boys and with these leagues on a sound basis, with a contract like the one we use, they expect those boys to want to stay in their own class. I see no reason why the Negro leagues can not become a part of organized baseball with the commissioner serving them as he does other leagues."

Chandler said it was the idea of himself, Frick and Harridge that the Negroes set up their own organization as broad a plan as they desire, including major and minor leagues of various classification. "Once they do this, I believe the color problem in baseball will be solved," he said.

Speaking at a meeting of Texas League club owners, the commissioner gave a general outline of the workings of his office and projected his ideas for future control that he said he hoped would bring various departments—the minor leagues and promotional activities among the youngsters — under a single jurisdiction which he thought should be the commissioner's headquarters.

LEGION QUINT MEETS PITT LOOP TEAM HERE

Their victory chain broken at four straight by Salem last week, the Alfred Wedgewood post American Legion passers seek the victory trail again here tonight when they stack up against a Neville Island, Pa., team of the Greater Pittsburgh League. The tipoff is scheduled for 9 o'clock, the starting time having been set back from 8:15.

Jack Maley, out of the Salem game due to sickness, will be back at his guard post tonight with Jobey Wetzel at the other guard. Porter Mackey and Peanuts Bennett will start at the forwards with Leo Cole at the pivot.

The Pittsburghers will take the floor with Wiseman and Babick at forwards, Bartelle at center and Roberts and Brough at guards.

RICHMOND, Calif., Jan. 21 — Little Toney Penna, colorful Dayton professional golfer and winner of the Richmond Open pocketed $2,000 in Victory Bonds today and headed for Phoenix, next stop on the winter tournament circuit.

JIMMY BIVINS WANTS LOSER OF LOUIS-CONN

By The Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 21—Jimmy Bivins, the classy Cleveland Negro heavyweight, wants a shot at the loser—not the winner—of the Joe Louis-Billy Conn title fight next June.

"Of course, Jimmy wants to fight the winner, too," Bivins' manager, Claude Shane, says. "But we want the loser first."

Bivins is here to fight Johnny Haynes, 220-pound Los Angeles clouter, tomorrow night.

Columbus Buys Bergamo

COLUMBUS, Jan. 21—The Columbus Red Birds of the American Association have purchased Tugie Bergamo, 27-year-old outfielder from the St. Louis Cardinals. Bergamo played with Columbus' championship clubs from 1941 through 1943.

Junior Church Basketball League race, the Christians downing Anderson Methodist, 13-6, and the Saints trouncing Orchard Grove Methodist, 27-7.

In other games, Chester Christian walloped Chester Presbyterian, 14-1, First United Presbyterian laced Second United Presbyterian, 24-11, Chester Methodist repelled Glenmoor United Presbyterian, 19-8, and First Presbyterian edged Second Presbyterian, 19-18.

Betts with six points and Myers with four led the First Christians, while Harvey paced Anderson Methodist with three. Woods looped 13 markers to spark St. Aloysius, and Irving and Deemer with three apiece topped Orchard Grove scorers.

Beckner's nine counters paced Chester Christian over Chester Presbys who were led by Simcox lone point. Thornberry with seven, Conconis and Mort with six each and Manes with five tallied the First U. P. points, as Powell bagged five for Second U. P.

Waite collected nine markers for Chester Methodist against Glenmoor U. P., who was paced by Glenn with four and Reed with three.

Martin and Hutchison caged seven apiece when the First Presbys nipped the Second Presbys. Pierson arched nine for the losers.

Four Of Nation's Leading Collegiate Quintets Head Week's Basketball Chase

By JOE REICHLER, Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 21—Four teams gunning for national college basketball honors headline this week's cage card with unbeaten Notre Dame meeting Kentucky and Wyoming shoots twice with Oklahoma A. & M.

The South Bend Irish currently enjoying the number one rating by virtue of their 10-0 record against some of the country's strongest aggregations, meet their stiffest test of the season Saturday in the once-beaten Wildcats. The Kentuckians have won 12, including a 50-to-32 trouncing of Tennessee Saturday.

Irish Tunes Up For 'Cats'

Notre Dame tunes up for the Kentucky encounter by meeting Marquette Tuesday while the Wildcats travel to Atlanta to oppose Georgia Tech in a Southeastern Conference contest.

The Wyoming-Oklahoma Aggies battles Friday and Saturday bring together two of the foremost fives of the nation. The Aggies, winners of the N.C.A.A. title last year have been beaten once in 11 engagements while the Cowboys have lost one in 13. The far westerners swamped Utah, 63-43, Saturday.

The list of major undefeated teams, already narrowed to five, may receive further pruning as Navy (4-0) tangles with Duke, Southern Conference leaders, Saturday. The twice-beaten Blue Devils will seek to lengthen their 11-game winning streak. Holy Cross (7-0) is host to powerful Rhode Island State Thursday and meets Tufts Saturday. West Virginia (11-0), takes on Alderson-Broaddus Saturday while Gettysburg (7-0), tackles Lafayette the same day.

Cornell Meets Dartmouth

Cornell, one of the seven teams ousted from the all-conquering class last week, can assure itself of at least a tie for the Eastern Intercollegiate League championship by knocking off Dartmouth Saturday. New York University snapped Cornell's victory string at eight last Wednesday by a 62-to-46 count. Other teams losing their first last week were Yale, Baldwin-Wallace, Georgia, Tulane, Northwestern and Capital.

LOCAL BOWLERS WIN, THEN LOSE

Split Matches With Warren Team Here On Saturday

After squaring a previous setback, the Del Ray Recreation bowling team dropped the second of two matches on the Walnut st. alleys to the Warren Recovery Drugs here Saturday night.

Paced by Johnny Greene's three-game 684, the local keglers topped the invaders, 2816 to 2739, in the opening match but then, bowed, 2911 to 2784, in the second. Miele toppled 691 pins for Warren in the second, while Zeb Stahl posted the three-game high for East Liverpool with a 596.

In the opening match, Greene cracked the maples for consecutive games of 233, 193 and 258 for his leading 684. Miele of Warren racked up games of 241, 237 and 213 for his 691 in the final.

Chester Boosters Set Town's Initial College Cage Game For Feb. 4

The first collegiate basketball game in the history of the community will be staged in Chester on Feb. 4 between Bethany and Marietta colleges, the Chester Boosters club, sponsor of the contest, announced today.

Proceeds of the game will be used to carry on club projects, De-Mar Miller, vice-president who was instrumental in having the game switched from Bethany, revealed after conferring with Coach John Knight of the Bisons.

The Bethany mentor, of course, had to obtain permission from the athletic departments of Bethany and Marietta. The contest will start at 8 p. m. in the high school auditorium.

CRACK GOPHERS RULE ROOST IN BIG TEN PLAY

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Jan. 21—Minnesota's Gophers, with their toughest games yet to be played, rule the roost in the Big Ten basketball title-chase today, but they're not selling any of their future opponents short.

The Gophers are the only undefeated club in the conference.

The big upset last week end was Indiana's 44-to-39 victory over Ohio State's previously unbeaten Buckeyes. The champion Hawkeyes from Iowa beat Purdue, 49-43; Michigan turned the tables on Northwestern, 56-37, and Illionis romped over Chicago, 70-29, in other league games.

Now Minnesota, with Great Lakes a victim in its wake, has to take on Purdue at Minneapolis Saturday in what probably will be the decisive game in the Gophers' title bid.

Flyers Stop Barons

CLEVELAND, Jan. 21 — Cleveland's erratic Barons today held only a narrow one-point lead over the last place St. Louis Flyers in the western division of the American Hockey league. The Flyers, battling to take over third place, captured a 4-to-2 victory last night to gain an even break in the three-game series between the two clubs.

AL SCHACHT AWARDED 'BILL SLOCUM' TROPHY

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21 — Al Schacht, the clown prince of baseball, has been voted the Bill Slocum memorial award for high contribution to baseball by the New York chapter of the Baseball Writers Association.

The baseball comedian, who pitched for Washington in 1919, 1920 and 1921 and later coached with Washington and the Boston Red Sox, made three overseas trips to North Africa, Sicily, New Guinea, Dutch East Indies, Philippines and Japan. He staged almost 500 overseas performances, appearing before almost 2,000,000 troops in addition to appearances at service hospitals and camps in this country during the war.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21 — Some eastern college athletic leaders, exasperated at the "do nothing" attitude of the National Collegiate A.A. at its recent St. Louis meeting, are talking about attending next year's gathering to "take charge." But they're likely to find themselves opposed by a bloc which figures the N.C.A.A. shouldn't try to regulate athletics too much because of the difficulty in finding a common ground between the colleges that can afford to have ideals and those which have to make football pay. "We probably will have to go out and get athletes in self-defense," one eastern athletic director explained. "There's going to be an awful rush to get returning G.I. athletes. And the new 'Ivy League' won't help out. Some of those schools will be just as bad as some southern colleges when it comes to subsidizing."

Monday matinee.

The Holy Cross-Rhode Island, Boston College-Providence basketball double-header Thursday was a sellout a week in advanve — the first the Boston Garden has enjoyed. . . . Big Gil Bouley is reported to have earned $9,500 since he quit Cornell to join the Cleveland Rams. That's not bad dough for a second-string tackle.

It's wonderful.

The Kitty League, reviving after a wartime interruption, elected Shelby Peace of Hopkinsville, Ky., as its president. A bonafide peacetime league, eh?

Cleaning the cuff.

Keep your eye on little Beloit college as a future midwestern athletic standout. To revive basketball, Beloit hired Dolph Stanley, who won 45 straight games as coach at Taylorville, Ill., High school and who can attract stars from his home state the way Paul Brown attracts Ohio football players. Now Beloit has gone into Illinois again, signing Jimmy Easterbrook from East St. Louis high, to put football into high gear.

HONG KONG — Only one icicle has been recorded in Hong Kong's long and balmy history—and it was seen only by one man.

Legend has it that the icicle was found many years ago by a poor rickshaw coolie. He saw it hanging from a water pipe outside a hotel at the top of this colony's famous funicular railway.

Having spent all his life in Hong Kong's equable climate, the ignorant coolie thought he had come across some strange new gem — it glittered so brightly in the sunshine.

Tearing this foot-long treasure from the water pipe, he began running madly down the road to show his prize to the townspeople at the bottom of the hill.

Unfortunately, his strange cold "diamond" began to melt. The faster he ran the faster it melted in his warm hands.

Just as he reached the bottom of the hill the last of the icicle vanished. When the rickshaw coolie told his friends of his wonderful adventure and showed his dripping hands they laughed at him and called him dreamy fool. They thought he had gone punchy from pulling his rickshaw uphill.

And so, according to British colony weather boosters, perished the only icicle nature ever formed in sunny Hong Kong.

BRITISH drivers love to speed along Queens road in jeeps, and it takes an alert Chinese to keep from getting tire tracks on his back.

One young captain with whom I rode solemnly assured me, however, it wasn't the speed of his vehicle that threatened to decimate the pedestrian population.

"It's their blasted superstition that's responsible for so many close calls," he said, whizzing through one crowd like a lawn mower clipping through a patch of dandelions. "These blokes believe the devil is always on their tail and about to grab them. They figure if they can stand in your path until you are almost on them and then jump barely out of the way of your fenders that you'll run over and kill the devil behind them."

If there is any truth in this, then Hong Kong streets must be littered with invisible mangled devils.

CAPT. EDWARD LESAGE, veteran little British navy commander, thinks the story of the disgruntled Aussie trooper in New Guinea is the best anecdote of the Pacific war.

Sweating out a Japanese bombardment in a jungle mud puddle, the Aussie complained:

"Look at me hat—hanging over me ears it's that large! Look at me uniform—big enough to wrap twice around! Look at me boots—mud squishing up through them! Look at me rifle—mud all over it. And inspection coming up in 10 minutes!"

Just then a Japanese shell landed in his mud puddle and blew him up among the clouds. But his heavenly station didn't change his disposition.

"Look at me halo!" he mourned in disgust. "It hangs on me ears. Look at me white nightgown—big enough to go around me six times! Look at me sandals—with clouds squishing up through me toes! Look at me harp — four strings broke! And me with inspection coming up in 10 more minutes!"

TEEN-AGERS HELPED BY CIVIL AIR PATROL

NEW ORLEANS — Louisiana's civil air patrol, its wartime duties finished, now is concentrating on the preflight training of 15-, 16- and 17-year-olds.

The patrol also is planning to become part of a network of nation-wide missing aircraft search service.

Louisiana Wing Command Col. Richard G. Jones says that the prospective peacetime activities of the CAP are countless.

WOMAN BURNED ESCAPING BLAZE

Rural Lane House Is Scene Of Sunday Night Fire

Mrs. Joyce Coburn, 407 Rural lane, was reported in "good" condition today at City hospital after receiving first- and second-degree burns about ner body Sunday night when fire swept the bathroom and dining room of the residence.

Dr. Charles Gerace said she was burned on the legs, arms, face and neck.

The fire originated from a gas stove in the bathroom when the rubber hose blew off the pipe, Central firemen who quelled the blaze reported. Mrs. Coburn, trapped on the second floor, managed to escape through a window with the assistance of a passerby.

Two chimney and two grass fires also were extinguished by city firemen over the week end. No damage was caused in any of the fires.

Central firefighters quelled a chimney blaze at the home of Sarah Sharp, 920 Montgomery ave., Saturday at 4:10 p. m.; North Side and Central collaborated in putting out a grass fire at Shiveley's field near the reservoir Saturday at 7:55 p. m.; East End firemen extinguished a chimney fire at the home of Millie Williams, Monaca st. and Park Way, Saturday at 8:30 p. m. and Central quelled another grass blaze in a vacant lot off Morton st. Sunday at 1:15 p. m.

SUBSIDIES

lawmakers for appropriations, which, together with funds already available, would permit the agriculture department to spend about $3,435,500,000 for subsidies, farm programs, research and for foreign relief operations during the fiscal year beginning July 1.

The department's expenditures for similar activities during the current fiscal year were estimated at $2,992,000,000.

In requesting extension of the subsidy program, Mr. Truman said food prices since V-J Day have failed to follow the pattern the government had expected.

Mr. Truman added that this anticipated price decline would have permitted the gradual elimination of food subsidies by June 30 without raising over-all food costs.

"As matters stand today," he said, "food prices are pressing hard against the ceiling. The expected decline in food prices has not occurred, nor is it likely to occur for many months to come. This brings me to the conclusion that food subsidies must be continued beyond June 30."

Acts At ONCE to RELIEVE AND 'LOOSEN' BAD COUGHS (CAUSED BY COLDS)

Prescribed by thousands of Doctors!

For years thousands of Doctors have prescribed PERTUSSIN to promptly relieve such bad coughs. Relief often comes with the first spoonfuls!

The reason PERTUSSIN brings such prompt relief is because it's scientifically prepared to act at once. PERTUSSIN not only lessens the severity and frequency of coughing but it actually 'loosens tickling phlegm' and makes it easier to raise.

Safe and mighty effective for both old and young. Pleasant tasting, too! Buy it from your druggist.

Geological Collection Received by Muskingum College Includes Rare Material Used for Insulators in Radar

NEW CONCORD, O.—Non-metallic minerals used extensively by Eastern Ohio industries predominate in a collection of more than 1,000 specimens which has been presented to Muskingum College's geology department by Miss Josephine Gitter, ceramic engineer, of Zanesville, O., and New York City.

Included are specimens of comparatively rare block steatite talc used in making insulators for radar and Navy long-distance transmitting equipment. In the photo above, Professor Moses, head of the Muskingum geology department, points to the talc as it is mined, and Miss Burge is holding one of the finished "spacers" used in the insulators. Because of inadequacy of Montana deposits of the substance, tons of it were flown from India to the U. S. during World War II.

Miss Farquhar is shown examining one of several Muskingum County glacial deposit stones forming another part of the collection.

Also included are various specimens of clays, micas, quartz, felspar, flint and salt.

During the war, Miss Gitter was chief of WPB's clay-talc unit in Washington.

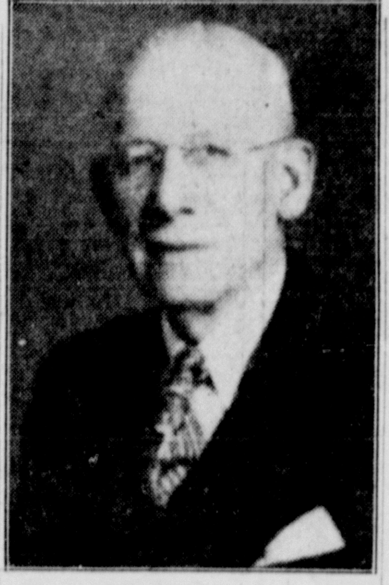
Gas Company Manager To Retire In April



THOMAS H. STEPHENS
Ends long service with utility

THOMAS H. STEPHENS will retire on April 1 as district manager for the Manufacturers Ligh & Heat Co. after 46 years' service in the natural gas industry, it was announced today.

Mr. Stephens' resignation became effective Dec. 31, but at the request of the company, he will remain to assist his successor, Charles M. Taylor, of Wheeling.

Mr. Stephens entered the natural gas industry Dec. 1, 1899, when he was sent from Pittsburgh to take charge of the Ohio Valley Gas Co., which had been purchased from C. A. Smith. In 1908 he was made agent for the Manufacturers Light & Heat Co. here.

With the organization of District 7 on Nov. 1, 1930, Mr. Stephens was promoted to the position of district manager. This territory, in addition to East Liverpool, includes the offices in Steubenville, Toronto, Wellsville, Mingo, Brilliant, Cadiz and Scio in Ohio; Weirton, Follansbee, Wellsburg, New Cumberland, Newell, and Chester in West Virginia, and Smiths Ferry and Georgetown in Pennsylvania. His headquarters remained in East Liverpool during that time.

Mr. Stephens widely known in the natural gas industry throughout the state. He has been a director in the Ohio Gas and Oil Men's Association for the past 10 years. The present headquarters of the Manufacturers Light & Heat Co. on West Sixth st. was erected and occupied in 1929.

The territory in District 7 has been consolidated with District 4 by the Manufacturers Light & Heat Co. and the Natural Gas Co. of West Virginia and Mr. Taylor has been appointed district manager. The district headquarters will be at Wheeling. Mr. Taylor was appointed from local manager for the Natural Gas Co. of West Virginia to manager of District 4 when it was formed on Aug. 1, 1943.

With the enlargement of the district, Robert J. Frame of Wheeling has been promoted from foreman to the local manager for Wheeling. Mr. Taylor and Mr. Frame will maintain their headquarters at 1226 Chapline st., Wheeling. In addition to Mr. Frame, other local managers under Mr. Taylor's supervision will be William T. McIntyre of East Liverpool, S. Quay King of Steubenville, and H. F. Cummings of New Martinsville.

In addition to offices formerly in District 7, the new District 4 territory will include Wheeling, Benwood, McMechen and Moundsville, W. Va., and Martins Ferry, Bellaire and Bridgeport in Ohio.

BUDGET

tion of generally favorable business conditions, but not on an income reflecting full employment and high productivity that we hope to achieve. In future years the present tax system, in conjuction with a full employment level of national income, could be expected to yield more than $30,000,000,000, which is substantially above the anticipated peacetime level of expenditures".

Tentative Estimate Given

In one reference to future budgets, he observed "that they hardly can be expected to be reduced to less than $25,000,000,000".

The budget message was unique in one respect. For the first time it included not only the customary estimates based on existing law, but also tentative estimates to provide for proposed legislation recommended by the President in his companion report on the state of the Union.

Details of the army and navy budgets, which total $13,000,000,000, were not included in the President's message. He used over-all figures, saying he would transmit detailed recommendations in the spring.

Discussing borrowing and the public debt, he said:

"The successful conclusion of the Victory Loan marked the end of war borrowing and the beginning of the transition to postwar debt management".

The chief executive remarked that "it is good to move toward a balanced budget and a start on the retirement of the debt at a time when demand for goods is strong and the business outlook good. These conditions prevail today. Business is good and there are still powerful forces working in the direction of inflation".

Although Mr. Truman spoke only of "moving" toward a balanced budget, White House officials took the view that the budget he submitted virtually was balanced. They pointed out that estimates to cover the cost of legislation recommended, but not yet enaced, accounted for most of the indicated $4,300,000,000 deficit.

WORLD WARNED ON U.S. IDEALS

Truman Says Nation Won't Yield On Principles

beginning" toward that goal. He said economic collaboration must be carried on as carefully and as comprehensively as the political and security measures.

"Our ultimate security," he said, "requires more than a process of consultation and compromise. It requires that we begin now to develop the United Nations Organization as the representative of the world as one society."

He outlined the 12-point fundamental foreign policy of the United States, which he first presented last Oct. 27 in New York. At that time he renounced for this country any territorial expansion or selfish advantage and supported the eventual return of sovereign rights and self-government to all peoples.

Acknowledging that the Allied control council in Germany "has not met with unqualified success", he added that it has made "encouraging progress in the face of most serious difficulties". He said he intends "at the earliest practicable date" to transfer control of American-occupied territory from military to civilian personnel.

At the same time, Mr. Truman asserted "effective control will be maintained in Germany until we are satisfied that the German people have regained the right to a place of honor and respect".

Strong China Favored

He told congress "in order that neither Germany nor Japan will again be in a position to wage aggressive warfare, the armament-making potential of these countries is being dismantled and fundamental changes in their social and political structures are being effected".

In Japan, Mr. Truman went on, the United States, "with the full approval of its partners, has retained primary authority and primary responsibility. It will continue to do so until the Japanese people, by their own freely-expressed choice, choose their own form of government".

"Our basic policy in the Far East," he said, "is to encourage the development of a strong, independent, united and democratic China."

The chief executive touched only briefly on the problems of the hungry and homeless in other lands, commending Congress for its appropriations to the UNRRA and saying that this country has taken the lead, "modest though it is", in admitting refugees and displaced persons from Europe under existing immigration quotas. He did not go beyond previous statements in the Palestine controversy, declaring that the problem now is under study by a British-American commission.

Would Link Policies

Insisting that this nation's diplomatic policy must be linked to a foreign economic policy, he said the latter must have a three-way target: Promoting this country's prosperity, aiding in the restoration and expansion of world markets and "contributing thereby to world peace".

Turning to the proposed $3,750,000,000 loan to Britain, Mr. Truman said extension of that credit would enable the United Kingdom to avoid "discriminatory trade arrangements of the type which destroyed freedom of trade during the 1939's—a factor which, he argued, alone justifies the action.

The chief executive said the Export-Import bank already has negotiated loans of about $1,000,000,000 for the fiscal year of 1946 to assist other countries in restoring their economies. He added an additional $195,000,000 propably will be committed "shortly".

Mr. Truman incorporated in his 1946 legislature program two foreign policy measures—one permitting the maritime commission to sell ships at home and abroad, the other repealing the Johnson act which forbids credits to countries in default on previous loans.

The President said that Gen. George C. Marshall, special envoy to China, "ably is executing" the policy of supporting efforts to bring about an end of Chinese civil strife.

that a communist be elected provisional president. They immediately advanced the name of their minister of state, Maurice Thorez, as Gen. De Gaulle's successor.

Auriol's Name Mentioned

Vincent Auriol, the Socialist minister of state, is considered another likely candidate in authoritative political circles, which also talked of a Socialist-Communist headed by a Radical-Socialist, perhaps prewar Premier Eduard Herriot.

Gen. De Gaulle's action came after 48 hours of conferences with party leaders and followed communist and Socialist demands for an additional cut of 20 per cent in the budget for the army.

The crisis is said to have arisen when Gen. De Gaulle changed his mind on the compromise "because of the tension of the world situation as revealed at the London United Nations conference".

The cabinet meeting followed attacks by several Paris newspapers on the army budget and on Armand Michelet, minister of the armies and a member of the Popular Republican Movement party.

Cleveland, Massillon, Canton, Niles and Warren.

The main plants in the Cleveland area are operated by Republic, the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. and the American Steel & Wire Co.

Snow covered the ground in some sections, causing pickets to resort to ear muffs, heavy clothing and fires to keep warm.

Sounding a note of optimism, Mr. Quinn said he believes the dispute will not last long. He declared public sentiment is in favor of the strikers and it would cause an early end to the strike. Company officials made no statements.

At the Weirton Steel Co.'s Steubenville plant, where workers are represented by an independent union, officials said the walkout will not bother its production.

The strike in Cincinnati's bakeries, which turn out 80 to 90 per cent of the area's baked goods, started Saturday in support of the A. F. of L. bakers union request for a 30 per cent wage increase and left grocers' shelves virtually bare of bread and pastries today.

Philip Schnur, bakers' business agent, said the walkout was voted after unionists rejected the companies' offer of a 15-cent-an hour pay boost. He said the requested 30 per cent boost would amount to approximately 28 cents for half the workers and a higher rate for the others.

Mr. Schnur said the bakers' stoppage also would make idle today 500 truck drivers who deliver products of the 16 plants involved.

The paralysis in the steel industry affected between 1,500 and 2,000 members of railroad switching crews in the Youngstown area, including employees of the Pennsylvania, Erie, New York Central, Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, Lake Erie & Eastern, Baltimore & Ohio and Youngstown & Southern.

An office workers' picket line of about 50 persons was set up at the office building of Youngstown Sheet & Tube and turned back a few women office workers.

Mr. Quinn said the union is permitting no one to enter the Warren plant of Republic Steel, claiming the company had "reneged" on its agreement concerning admission for maintenance workers. He said the company announced last night no maintenance workers would be needed and kept about 50 foremen and sub-foremen in the plant.

WOMAN BURNED ESCAPING BLAZE

Rural Lane House Is Scene Of Sunday Night Fire

Mrs. Joyce Coburn, 407 Rural lane, was reported in "good" condition today at City hospital after receiving first- and second-degree burns about her body Sunday night when fire swept the bathroom and dining room of the residence.

Dr. Charles Gerace said she was burned on the legs, arms, face and neck.

The fire originated from a gas stove in the bathroom when the rubber hose blew off the pipe, Central firemen who quelled the blaze reported. Mrs. Coburn, trapped on the second floor, managed to escape through a window with the assistance of a passerby.

Two chimney and two grass fires also were extinguished by city firemen over the week end. No damage was caused in any of the fires.

Central firefighters quelled a chimney blaze at the home of Sarah Sharp, 920 Montgomery ave., Saturday at 4:10 p. m.; North Side and Central collaborated in putting out a grass fire at Shiveley's field near the reservoir Saturday at 7:55 p. m.; East End firemen extinguished a chimney fire at the home of Millie Williams, Monaca st. and Park Way, Saturday at 8:30 p. m. and Central quelled another grass blaze in a vacant lot off Morton st. Sunday at 1:15 p. m.

lawmakers for appropriations, which, together with funds already available, would permit the agriculture department to spend about $3,435,500,000 for subsidies, farm programs, research and for foreign relief operations during the fiscal year beginning July 1.

The department's expenditures for similar activities during the current fiscal year were estimated at $2,992,000,000.

In requesting extension of the subsidy program, Mr. Truman said food prices since V-J Day have failed to follow the pattern the government had expected.

Mr. Truman added that this anticipated price decline would have permitted the gradual elimination of food subsidies by June 30 without raising over-all food costs.

"As matters stand today," he said, "food prices are pressing hard against the ceiling. The expected decline in food prices has not occurred, nor is it likely to occur for many months to come. This brings me to the conclusion that food subsidies must be continued beyond June 30."

Acts At ONCE to RELIEVE AND 'LOOSEN' BAD COUGHS (CAUSED BY COLDS)

Prescribed by thousands of Doctors!

For years thousands of Doctors have prescribed PERTUSSIN to promptly relieve such bad coughs. Relief often comes with the first spoonful! The reason PERTUSSIN brings such prompt relief is because it's scientifically prepared to act at once. PERTUSSIN not only lessens the severity and frequency of coughing but it actually 'loosens tickling phlegm' and makes it easier to raise. Safe and mighty effective for both old and young. Pleasant tasting, too! Buy it from your druggist.

Geological Collection Received by Muskingum College Includes Rare Material Used for Insulators in Radar

Miss Josephine Gitter, Donor of Collection.

NEW CONCORD, O.—Non-metallic minerals used extensively by Eastern Ohio industries predominate in a collection of more than 1,000 specimens which has been presented to Muskingum College's geology department by Miss Josephine Gitter, ceramic engineer, of Zanesville, O., and New York City.

Included are specimens of comparatively rare block steatite talc used in making insulators for radar and Navy long-distance transmitting equipment. In the photo above, Professor Moses, head of the Muskingum geology department, points to the talc as it is mined, and Miss Burge is holding one of the finished "spacers" used in the insulators. Because of inadequacy of Montana deposits of the substance, tons of it were flown from India to the U. S. during World War II.

Miss Farquhar is shown examining one of several Muskingum County glacial deposit stones forming another part of the collection.

Also included are various specimens of clays, micas, quartz, felspar, flint and salt.

During the war, Miss Gitter was chief of WPB's clay-talc unit in Washington.

Gas Company Manager To Retire In April

THOMAS H. STEPHENS
Ends long service with utility

THOMAS H. STEPHENS will retire on April 1 as district manager for the Manufacturers Ligh & Heat Co. after 46 years' service in the natural gas industry, it was announced today.

Mr. Stephens' resignation became effective Dec. 31, but at the request of the company, he will remain to assist his successor, Charles M. Taylor, of Wheeling.

Mr. Stephens entered the natural gas industry Dec. 1, 1899, when he was sent from Pittsburgh to take charge of the Ohio Valley Gas Co., which had been purchased from C. A. Smith. In 1908 he was made agent for the Manufacturers Light & Heat Co. here.

With the organization of District 7 on Nov. 1, 1930, Mr. Stephens was promoted to the position of district manager. This territory, in addition to East Liverpool, includes the offices in Steubenville, Toronto, Wellsville, Mingo, Brilliant, Cadiz and Scio in Ohio; Weirton, Follansbee, Wellsburg, New Cumberland, Newell, and Chester in West Virginia, and Smiths Ferry and Georgetown in Pennsylvania. His headquarters remained in East Liverpool during that time.

Mr. Stephens widely known in the natural gas industry throughout the state. He has been a director in the Ohio Gas and Oil Men's Association for the past 10 years. The present headquarters of the Manufacturers Light & Heat Co. on West Sixth st. was erected and occupied in 1929.

The territory in District 7 has been consolidated with District 4 by the Manufacturers Light & Heat Co. and the Natural Gas Co. of West Virginia and Mr. Taylor has been appointed district manager. The district headquarters will be at Wheeling. Mr. Taylor was appointed from local manager for the Natural Gas Co. of West Virginia to manager of District 4 when it was formed on Aug. 1, 1943.

With the enlargement of the district, Robert J. Frame of Wheeling has been promoted from foreman to the local manager for Wheeling. Mr. Taylor and Mr. Frame will maintain their headquarters at 1226 Chapline st., Wheeling. In addition to Mr. Frame, other local managers under Mr. Taylor's supervision will be William T. McIntyre of East Liverpool, S. Quay King of Steubenville, and H. F. Cummings of New Martinsville.

In addition to offices formerly in District 7, the new District 4 territory will include Wheeling, Benwood, McMechen and Moundsville, W. Va., and Martins Ferry, Bellaire and Bridgeport in Ohio.

BUDGET

tion of generally favorable business conditions, but not on an income reflecting full employment and high productivity that we hope to achieve. In future years the present tax system, in conjuction with a full employment level of national income, could be expected to yield more than $30,000,000,000, which is substantially above the anticipated peacetime level of expenditures".

Tentative Estimate Given

In one reference to future budgets, he observed "that they hardly can be expected to be reduced to less than $25,000,000,000".

The budget message was unique in one respect. For the first time it included not only the customary estimates based on existing law, but also tentative estimates to provide for proposed legislation recommended by the President in his companion report on the state of the Union.

Details of the army and navy budgets, which total $13,000,000,000, were not included in the President's message. He used over-all figures, saying he would transmit detailed recommendations in the spring.

Discussing borrowing and the public debt, he said:

"The successful conclusion of the Victory Loan marked the end of war borrowing and the beginning of the transition to postwar debt management".

The chief executive remarked that "it is good to move toward a balanced budget and a start on the retirement of the debt at a time when demand for goods is strong and the business outlook good. These conditions prevail today. Business is good and there are still powerful forces working in the direction of inflation".

Although Mr. Truman spoke only of "moving" toward a balanced budget, White House officials took the view that the budget he submitted virtually was balanced. They pointed out that estimates to cover the cost of legislation recommended, but not yet enaced, accounted for most of the indicated $4,300,000,000 deficit.

WORLD WARNED ON U.S. IDEALS

beginning" toward that goal. He said economic collaboration must be carried on as carefully and as comprehensively as the political and security measures.

"Our ultimate security," he said, "requires more than a process of consultation and compromise. It requires that we begin now to develop the United Nations Organization as the representative of the world as one society."

He outlined the 12-point fundamental foreign policy of the United States, which he first presented last Oct. 27 in New York. At that time he renounced for this country any territorial expansion or selfish advantage and supported the eventual return of sovereign rights and self-government to all peoples.

Acknowledging that the Allied control council in Germany "has not met with unqualified success", he added that it has made "encouraging progress in the face of most serious difficulties". He said he intends "at the earliest practicable date" to transfer control of American-occupied territory from military to civilian personnel.

At the same time, Mr. Truman asserted "effective control will be maintained in Germany until we are satisfied that the German people have regained the right to a place of honor and respect".

Strong China Favored

He told congress "in order that neither Germany nor Japan will again be in a position to wage aggressive warfare, the armament-making potential of these countries is being dismantled and fundamental changes in their social and political structures are being effected".

In Japan, Mr. Truman went on, the United States, "with the full approval of its partners, has retained primary authority and primary responsibility. It will continue to do so until the Japanese people, by their own freely-expressed choice, choose their own form of government".

"Our basic policy in the Far East," he said, "is to encourage the development of a strong, independent, united and democratic China."

The chief executive touched only briefly on the problems of the hungry and homeless in other lands, commending Congress for its appropriations to the UNRRA and saying that this country has taken the lead, "modest though it is", in admitting refugees and displaced persons from Europe under existing immigration quotas. He did not go beyond previous statements in the Palestine controversy, declaring that the problem now is under study by a British-American commission.

Would Link Policies

Insisting that this nation's diplomatic policy must be linked to a foreign economic policy, he said the latter must have a three-way target: Promoting this country's prosperity, aiding in the restoration and expansion of world markets and "contributing thereby to world peace".

Turning to the proposed $3,750,000,000 loan to Britain, Mr. Truman said extension of that credit would enable the United Kingdom to avoid "discriminatory trade arrangements of the type which destroyed freedom of trade during the 1939's—a factor which, he argued, alone justifies the action.

The chief executive said the Export-Import bank already has negotiated loans of about $1,000,000,000 for the fiscal year of 1946 to assist other countries in restoring their economies. He added an additional $195,000,000 propably will be committed "shortly".

Mr. Truman incorporated in his 1946 legislature program two foreign policy measures—one permitting the maritime commission to sell ships at home and abroad, the other repealing the Johnson act which forbids credits to countries in default on previous loans.

The President said that Gen. George C. Marshall, special envoy to China, "ably is executing" the policy of supporting efforts to bring about an end of Chinese civil strife.

DE GAULLE

that a communist be elected provisional president. They immediately advanced the name of their minister of state, Maurice Thorez, as Gen. De Gaulle's successor.

Auriol's Name Mentioned

Vincent Auriol, the Socialist minister of state, is considered another likely candidate in authoritative political circles, which also talked of a Socialist-Communist headed by a Radical-Socialist, perhaps prewar Premier Eduard Herriot.

Gen. De Gaulle's action came after 48 hours of conferences with party leaders and followed communist and Socialist demands for an additional cut of 20 per cent in the budget for the army.

The crisis is said to have arisen when Gen. De Gaulle changed his mind on the compromise "because of the tension of the world situation as revealed at the London United Nations conference".

The cabinet meeting followed attacks by several Paris newspapers on the army budget and on Armand Michelet, minister of the armies and a member of the Popular Republican Movement party.

Cleveland, Massillon, Canton, Niles and Warren.

The main plants in the Cleveland area are operated by Republic, the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. and the American Steel & Wire Co.

Snow covered the ground in some sections, causing pickets to resort to ear muffs, heavy clothing and fires to keep warm.

Sounding a note of optimism, Mr. Quinn said he believes the dispute will not last long. He declared public sentiment is in favor of the strikers and it would cause an early end to the strike. Company officials made no statements.

At the Weirton Steel Co.'s Steubenville plant, where workers are represented by an independent union, officials said the walkout will not bother its production.

The strike in Cincinnati's bakeries, which turn out 80 to 90 per cent of the area's baked goods, started Saturday in support of the A. F. of L. bakers union request for a 30 per cent wage increase and left grocers' shelves virtually bare of bread and pastries today.

Philip Schnur, bakers' business agent, said the walkout was voted after unionists rejected the companies' offer of a 15-cent-an hour pay boost. He said the requested 30 per cent boost would amount to approximately 28 cents for half the workers and a higher rate for the others.

Mr. Schnur said the bakers' stoppage also would make idle today 500 truck drivers who deliver products of the 16 plants involved.

The paralysis in the steel industry affected between 1,500 and 2,000 members of railroad switching crews in the Youngstown area, including employees of the Pennsylvania, Erie, New York Central, Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, Lake Erie & Eastern, Baltimore & Ohio and Youngstown & Southern.

An office workers' picket line of about 50 persons was set up at the office building of Youngstown Sheet & Tube and turned back a few women office workers.

Mr. Quinn said the union is permitting no one to enter the Warren plant of Republic Steel, claiming the company had "reneged" on its agreement concerning admission for maintenance workers. He said the company announced last night no maintenance workers would be needed and kept about 50 foremen and sub-foremen in the plant.

OFFICERS COMB JERUSALEM FOR BOMB PLOTTERS

Two Killed When Terrorists Try To Wreck Palestine Broadcasting Unit

By The Associated Press.

JERUSALEM, Jan. 21—Strong military and police parties enforced a curfew in Jerusalem Sunday night and combed the now quiet city in a search for hidden arms stores and persons suspected of participating in Saturday night's bombing and gun fighting.

A government communique described the disorders—in which two persons were killed and a third was wounded seriously—as an attempt by terrorists to wreck studios of the Palestine Broadcasting Service.

The attempt started, the communique said, when a number of armed Jews placed explosives in an electric power substation near the studios.

Declaring the substation was damaged slightly and that several land lines to the radio station's transmitter in suburban Ramallah were severed, the communique credited prompt police and military action with averting the demolition of the substation and the studios.

Knocked off the air for a time by the power house explosion, the radio station used emergency power and resumed broadcasting yesterday morning with an official announcement of the disorders which was read in all three languages of Palestine — English, Arabic and Hebrew. Regular broadcasts, however, still were canceled.

The dead were a British army officer and an armed Jew, whose body was found in a taxicab at the Hadassah hospital.

Military and police patrols yesterday morning uncovered considerable quantities of firearms, bombs, explosives, ammunition and other materials, the communique said.

Prisoner Fakes Death Report Before Escape At San Quentin Prison

By The Associated Press.

SAN QUENTIN, Calif., Jan. 21—San Quentin prison officials are checking reports today that a prisoner from Ohio, sentenced for robbery and under indictment for an Ironton (O.) murder, had forged a letter to Ohio police reporting his death in prison here.

Officials said Wilbur Streeter, 26, of Gallipolis, O., who was serving a five-year-to-life term for first degree robbery, escaped Christmas night and still is at large.

They said Streeter was employed in the prison administration building where he had access to his own records. He was sentenced Feb. 9, 1944, after pleading guilty to a $4,500 San Francisco holdup.

A grand jury at Portsmouth, O., indicted Streeter last September in the shooting of Charles Addis, an Ironton garage owner, May 12, 1943, but no date for a trial was set as he already was imprisoned here.

Another Ohioan, Robert Hatfield, was tried for Addis' murder and acquitted by a three-judge jury at Portsmouth last month. A ballistics expert by a three-judge jury at Portsmouth last month. A ballistics expert from the London (O.) prison farm identified the bullet which killed Addis as one fired from a pistol sold to Streeter at Gallipolis.

Streeter, questioned here at the request of the Ohio criminal investigation bureau shortly after he entered prison, denied implication in Addis' death.

Prosecutor Marvin A. Kelly of Scioto county (Ohio) said he had received a letter from the prison here stating Streeter had died.

Wooded Isle In Potomac To Be Theodore Roosevelt Shrine

By ALEXANDER GEORGE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21—A wilderness island, within a mile of the White House, will take its place this year among the world's most distinctive memorials.

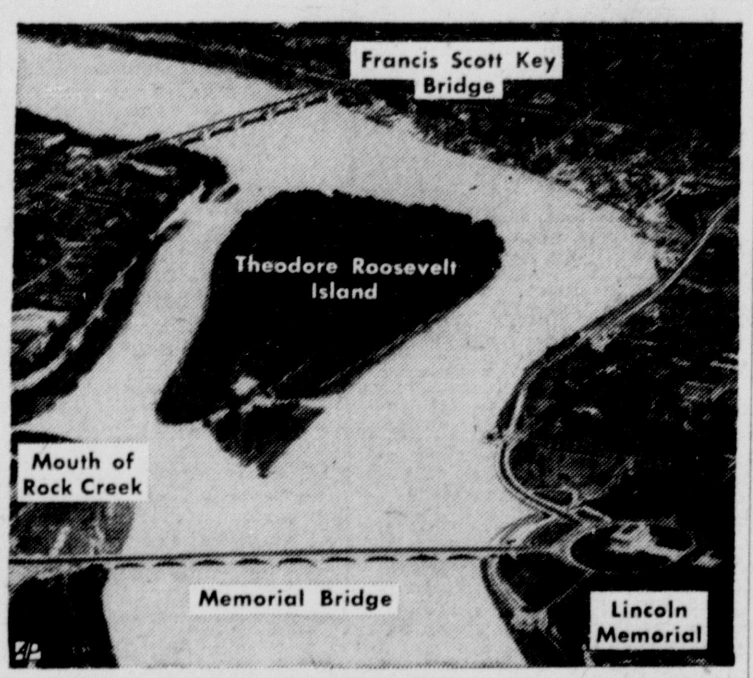
Officials of the national park service say they hope that Theodore Roosevelt Island (formerly Analostan Island) in the Patomac river will be ready for limited use by the public sometime next summer.

The 75-acre forest island, close to the heart of a teeming modern capital but with its sylvan solitude accessible solely by boat, is considered a particularly suitable memorial to Theodore Roosevelt, who was an ardent woodsman and naturalist.

The island is a sort of gateway to the territory along the Potomac where President T. R. took his favorite tramping trips. It lies between the Francis Scott Key bridge and the Memorial bridge and is directly opposite the mouth of Rock creek.

A simple Roosevelt memorial plaque will be placed on a wooded plateau at the southern end of the island. This plateau affords fine views of the Lincoln memorial, Washington monument and Arlington national cemetery with its tomb of the Unknown Soldier and the Robert E. Lee mansion. Toward the north, beyond the Key bridge, are the towers of Georgetown university.

A ferry will take visitors to the southern shore of the island. On the northern shore there will be a dock for canoes and small boats.



No automobiles or other vehicles will be allowed on the island. There will be several simple foottrails through the forest, a picnic grove, and a rustic shelter for use by visitors in the event of a sudden storm.

Analostan island was purchased by the Theodore Roosevelt memorial Association for $364,000 and presented to the nation in 1932. The plan for its development as a primeval forest was made by Frederick Law Olmsted, landscape architect of Brookline, Mass. For some years the national park service and the national park and planning commission have been developing the island under Mr. Olmsted's general direction, planting upward of 10,000 trees and shrubs.

The idea of the Roosevelt Memorial Association is that a development along lines similar to the primeval forest of the Potomac valley be carried on for generations, and possibly centuries. Among the better known trees on the island are red and white oak, ash, hickory, sycamore, Virginia dogwood, red bud and hawthorn.

Analostan island has a romantic history. It was inhabited by a small tribe of Indians in the 17th century when King Charles II granted a charter to Lord Baltimore giving him domain over the province of Maryland. The island became part of the District of Columbia when Maryland ceded acreage for the formation of the district.

In 1717 it came into the possession of George Mason, father of George Mason of Gunston Hall, signer of the Declaration of Independence and the author of the famous Bill of Rights. The latter willed the island to his son, Gen. John Mason, who built a brick manor house on it for a summer residence. There he entertained society folk of Georgetown and Alexandra and distinguished foreigners, including Louis Phillipe, Duke of Orleans.

President Jefferson is believed to have visited the home. Gen. Mason imported Merino sheep for his Analostan estate and grew maize there. A French visitor took back some of Mason's maize seed to the Empress Josephine, wife of Napoleon Bonaparte. The Mason manor house was destroyed by fire during the Civil War.

After the Civil War, the island was used as a pleasure resort where picnics, fairs and tilting tournaments were held. For about 15 years before the park service started its redevelopment work, the island was undisturbed. It returned to a wild state of brambles and timber.

BILBO DECLARES HE'S ALL SET TO TALK 30-60 DAYS

25 Senators Ready To Act In Shifts In Bid To Kill FEPC Legislation

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 — The southern filibuster against the fair employment practice commission bill became official today — Sen. Bilbo (D) of Mississippi was detected clearing his throat.

Winding a muffler carefully around his fabulous sound-box, Sen. Bilbo submitted to an interview.

"Why, yes," he said. "It so happens that I do intend to speak, 30 days or 60.

"But I am only one of many. We have about 25 senators on our varsity team, all of them primed to talk.

"If the opposition wants to run 24 hours a day, we are 100 per cent ready.

We have enough speakers so we can operate in shifts."

His reference was to a plan proposed by Sens. Chavez (D) of New Mexico and Morse (R) of Oregon, who favor the antidiscrimination bill. They want to hold the senate in continuous session in the hope of forcing a vote.

Riffling merrily through a sheaf of reference notes, Pearl River country's free-style talking champ disclosed that he has finished the blueprints for his opening remarks.

The Mississippian said it is hardly likely he will get around to reading passages from his new book, to be published in March. A treatise on race relations, it is entitled "Take Your Choice—Separation or Mongrelization".

The bill that touched off the filibuster is a measure to create a permanent FEPC to replace the wartime agency charged with guarding against job discrimination.

CONGRESS COOL TOWARD QUIZ OF RAPIDO FIGHTING

Men Of 36th Division Seek Investigation Of Bloody Campaign In Italy

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21—Senate and House military committee chairmen showed little enthusiasm today for a requested investigation into the bloody Rapido river engagement in Italy.

The demand came from members of the 36th Division Association, meeting in Brownwood, Tex., Saturday on the eve of the second anniversary of their costly crossing of the heavily-defended stream.

Rep. Andrew J. May (D) of Kentucky, chairman of the House military committee, told a reporter today he could not see what good could be accomplished by an investigation now.

"It wouldn't bring back the lives of any of the men who were lost there" Rep. May declared.

He emphasized that if they receive the 36th division Association resolution, they will refer it to the full membership of their respective committees for a decision.

The resolution declared that the division suffered nearly 2,900 casualties in the double crossing of the Rapido. It asked Congress to investigate and "take the necessary steps to correct a military system that will permit an inefficient and inexperienced officer, such as Gen. Mark W. Clark, in a high command to destroy the young manhood of this country, and to prevent future soldiers being sacrificed wastefully and uselessly".

Gen. Clark, now American commander in the U. S. occupation zone of Austria, had no comment at Vienna. But the war department quickly came to his defense, saying the Rapido river action was a diversionary action to reduce German pressure against the Anzio beachhead.

Whistling Cop

DECATUR, Ill. — Policeman Arthur Travis doesn't need a store-bought whistle to direct traffic. He just puts his tongue against his teeth and manufacturers a brand of shrill whistling that surpasses all other traffic warning signals. Officer Travis admits that his tongue gets pretty tired, and when it does, he takes a turn with a mechanical whistle.

GUS KASCH DIES AT 78 IN AKRON

Was Serving His Sixth Term In Ohio's Legislature

By The Associated Press.

AKRON, Jan. 21—Colorful and militant State Rep. Gus Kasch, serving his sixth term in the Ohio legislature since 1923, died yesterday.

The 78-year-old former newsboy, tinner and real estate operator, christened Gustav Friedrich Karl Kasch following his birth in 1867 in Germany, succumbed in People's hospital after being found semiconscious in his hotel room Friday.

He is survived by his widow, a son and an adopted daughter.

Mr. Kasch, who had served Akron s city councilman and school board member, was the author of more than 250 bills during the last six years of his career in the Ohio assembly, but he once estimated that only one found its way into the law books.

From the time the Kasch family arrived in America with $17 in cash, when the future legislator was just past 4 years old, Mr. Kasch sold papers and raised ducks to buy clothing and books until he quit school at 16.

After withdrawing from school, he borrowed his brother's horse and wagon to make a start in the roofing and spouting business. He later became one of Akron's largest real estate operators.

He was seated on the city council in 1920 and three years later was elected to the state assembly for the first time.

The Ku Klux Klan was active at the time and Mr. Kasch voted to unmask the hooded organization. His stand was credited with his defeat in the next election. He was elected again in 1933 and 1937. He served three successive terms before losing to C. B. McRae in 1942. The Democratic landslide of 1944 sent him back.

YOUR HOME TODAY and TOMORROW

by W. Wadsworth Wood

Exterior Should Be Built Around Required Interior

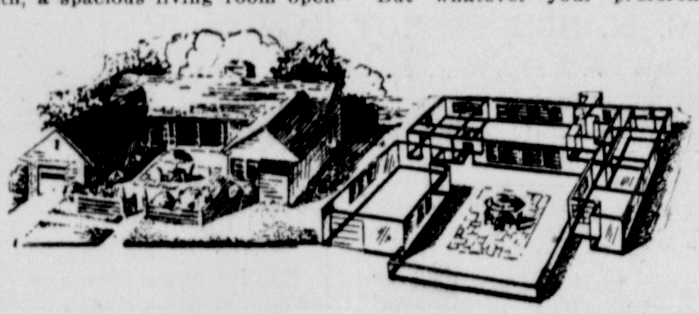
THE most successful homes in the country, either large or small, are the result of good, sound thinking and planning by the people who intend to live in them.

The house is designed from the inside out. In other words, they first decide the number and size of the rooms required by the family, the function of each room, and its relation to the rooms around it.

This gives them a perfect core, and around this, the exterior or cover is built.

The compact patio planned house, shown here, is an excellent example of this common sense method of arriving at a thoroughly satisfactory, convenient home.

There are two bedrooms and a bath, a spacious living room opening on the patio and full kitchen. The basement provides heater room, laundry and recreation facilities. All of the requirements of the small family are met in full measure, and the plans has many points to recommend it.



Study the arrangement and note the manner in which living, sleeping and work areas are separated, yet available to each other. This is an excellent example of today's basic, functional designing.

In your own initial planning, each member of the family must be considered. The likes and dislikes must be thought about. The amount of entertaining that is done, the occasional guest, the amount of closet space and all of the other small items that go into the interior of a home.

After your ideas about the interior have crystallized, you can go into the exterior treatment. Practically all styles in architecture were developed from characteristic room arrangements, and they, in turn, evolved from climate or family and social habits.

The services of a good small house architect undoubtedly will give you value received or you probably can find stock plans which will meet your requirements with some minor changes, through your local lumber and material dealer. Take bids from several reliable contractors, but remember that the lowest bid does not necessarily mean the best value.

Remember your list of "wants" and the things you disliked in other houses. Let your home style reflect you. If you are a conservative, keep to traditional styles and designs. If you want to pioneer in the latest developments to satisfy your urge for the ultra-modern, go along with that trend.

But whatever your preference may be, plan properly in the initial stage, and you will be satisfied with your new home.

VET JOB PLACEMENTS DROP 28% IN NEBRASK

By The United Press.

LINCOLN — Job opportunities for returning veterans and displaced war workers are lessening in Nebraska.

According to John A. Coover, state director of the U. S. employment service, the number of openings during the last month of 1945 dropped 28 per cent, from 9,016 in November to 6,501.

The number of veterans visiting the offices rose more than proportionately and Mr. Coover predicted the number seeking work will continue to increase. More than half the state's veterans still are in service, he said.

Former war workers also are searching for employment in increasing numbers.

NEW IDEAS PUT IN CROSLEY AUTO

Streamlined Aluminum Body To Be Among Features

By The Associated Press.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 21—Crosley Motors' first postwar automobile will have a streamlined aluminum body on an 80-inch wheel base and will be powered by a new type four-cylinder, furnace-brazed, sheet steel engine developing 26½ horsepower.

Announcing these details, Powel Crosley Jr., president, also said the new car will be sold through a number of leading department stores in larger cities as well as through franchised dealers in about 150 trading centers.

He said the new small, low-cost vehicle, weighing about 1,000 pounds, will do 60 miles an hour and yield 50 miles to the gallon of ordinary gasoline.

Within its 57-inch height and 49-inch width, the new model has two seats in front, two in back and a luggage compartment 25 by 40 inches. It has a six-gallon gasoline tank.

The power plant, built from thin sheet steel stampings instead of forgings and castings, weighs but 59 pounds and is only slightly larger than a standard typewriter. Cylinder walls are of chrom-molybdenum steel and are only one-sixteenth of an inch thick.

The engine uses but three quarts of oil and the cooling system requires only five quarts of water, but the pump forces water through the system at the rate of 12 gallons each minute.

Retail prices were not announced.

TOWN TO GIVE AUTOS TO TWO WAR HEROES

CUSHING, Okla. — Citizens of Cushing have launched a drive for funds to purchase new automobiles for two of the hometown war heroes.

The two returned veterans — Capt. Tommy Maloney and Pfc. Robert Davis—were crippled in the fighting, and the Cushing banks are accepting donations to the fund, sponsored by the Lions club, to buy each veteran a new car—when they can be had.

BILIBID VICTIM WROTE LAST NOTE TO MOTHER

By The United Press.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. — Three days before he died of malnutrition in a Japanese prison camp, Sgt. Thomas M. Palmer of Albuquerque wrote to his mother that "of course we realize we are not the only ones nor are we of any great concern to the country as a whole".

The unfinished letter arrived at Albuquerque recently from Bilibid prison with a small bundle of Sgt. Palmer's personal belongings.

"My hands still are in bad shape from beriberi', he wrote, adding, "this letter is incredibly tiring and I am having to stop frequently and rest".

Sgt. Palmer struggled with the letter long enough to note "we can truthfully say we've come out of hell into the promised land", then he lapsed soon after into unconsciousness.

His razor, toothbrush, a pencil, which his mother recognized as one he took from home, and a little Bible were in the bundle.

Potato Crop Heavy

CHEYENNE, Wyo. — One of the largest potato yields on record in Wyoming is reported for 1945 by George Knutson, federal agricultural statistician. Almost all of the crop was harvested without loss from frost. Preliminary estimate of the yield is 175 bushels per acre, compared with 155 bushels a year ago, and a 10-year average of 113 bushels per acre.

GLASSWORKERS RETURN TO JOBS

Pay Increase Of 10.7 Cents Ends 3-Month Walkout

By The Associated Press.

COLUMBUS, Jan. 21 — Fifteen thousand glassworkers in seven states were called to return to their jobs today to end a major strike of near-record duration and start up a flow of window and mirror glass to the automobile, construction and furniture industries again.

The workers left their posts Oct. 22 after breakdown of contract negotiations between the CIO Federation of Glass, Ceramic and Silica Sand Workers and the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. and the Libbey-Owens-Ford Co. of Toledo.

Negotiations were renewed here Jan. 6 and ended Saturday night with settlement of wage issues and signing of a new contract retroactive to Oct. 2, 1945, and effective until February, 1947.

Joseph Froesch, union president, said the workers will receive a flat increase of 10.7 cents an hour, plus an additional 7 cents for specified maintenance jobs. The previous wage averaged $1.05 an hour and ranged from 80 cents to $1.40. The union was seeking a 25-cent increase.

The strike affected plants at Mount Vernon and Toledo in Ohio.

Remarriages Lasts Days

MT. CLEMENS, Mich. — John Desmet, 50, married the same woman twice, but the first alliance lasted a bit longer than the second. His original venture endured 28 years, ending in divorce. Then he remarried, but told Judge James E. Spier that this marriage lasted only one day. He said he gave his wife $10 for a hair-do, but charged she spent it at a tavern. The divorce was granted.
